

From the Principal High Talent

Anthony Morris returned from Vietnam and the Mathematics Olympiad with a bronze medal – a very impressive effort! In the state finals at Sydney Grammar, Christian Katsikaros placed second in the Classical Greek and Latin Reading Competitions and Julian Byrnes received a commendation. Well done indeed, boys. Good to see the Rifle Shooting team won the Prorak Trophy and came 4th in the All Schools Shoot in the holidays and 5th in the GPS Shoot at Hornsby. With greater in-school support next year we look forward to an improved performance. Congratulations to our CHS cross country All Schools representatives who ran on July 20: Eugene Stadnik, Tom Castleton, Roshan Karunaratne, Ty Linegar, (Year 12), Edwin Montoya Zorrilla, Matthew Ling, Michael Denny-Smith, Nathan McDonnell (Year 11), Harrison Lane, Jeremy Ireland (Year 10), Pasan Pannila (Year 8). The stand-out competitor was Samuel Lane of Year 8 who finished 13th. Well done to all team members. Nicholas Dimitropoulos (Year 10) is off to Shandong, China to participate in the Luneng Cup as a member of the Australian Elite Soccer Football Academy squad. Congratulations and good luck, Nick!

Director-General Coutts -Trotter: "Engaging Generation Y" 13/6/07 Speech to Secondary Principals

Generation Y people were born between 1980 and 2000. How are they different to the generation before? 1. International "fault lines...are more complex [than the Cold War divide between capitalism and communism] and arranged around economics, ethnicity and identity and faith". Institutions and organisations that used to help explain the world "are caught in the ebb tide" as "membership of organised religion, service and sporting associations...political parties, has been stagnant or falling".

The new threat is "the apocalyptic consequences of climate change" so now your fate relies on "the capacity of the world to moderate the carbon consequences of economic growth in India and China" along with the developed world's ability to reduce future emissions. "So sustainability – ways of living and working that secure rather than threaten the future – is very important to this generation".

Generation Y has grown up in a digital world. It "writes more than any other generation before it: sms, emails, blogs, chat-rooms, My-Space, YouTube. " Generation Y produces immediate but not reflective texts that are electronic, public and permanent. Everyone will have an unmanageable public self.

"I think Gen Y knows more people than you or me." A majority of students seems to access social networking sites. Mostly that involves the "digitisation of their face to face friends" but also to make relationships with people anywhere online.

New technologies mean no one has control over ideas or ways to make them commercial. Jobs are international and more digitised. The distribution of education "is massively widening". Generation Y are comfortable with change. They may move in and out of several different occupations. Recruitment and retention of staff are issues. DET needs a greater "willingness and capacity to change". [It is doing so but excruciatingly slowly.] "So what limits an organisation's capacity to change? Chiefly, and certainly, a culture of blame where taking risks is punished and not encouraged."

DET needs to "unashamedly and persistently articulate the great moral purpose of public education. More than any other work, public education can bridge the gap between who we are – as individuals, as a community, as a nation – and who we could be.” Given that several other avenues for community service are in decline, teaching may become more attractive because “appeal to service is a profound motivation to young people”.

“Our use of information and communications technology – in teaching, learning, supporting, communicating – is crucial to reaching, then holding the attention and respect of this generation. This presents huge challenges, budgetary, attitudinal, organisational.” Generation Y people are open and impatient of closed systems.

[Interestingly, we can see that individual schools are wrestling with the same imperatives as the Director-General has identified for the DET as a system. Here, we offer identity as a High Boy regardless of ethnicity or faith. We urge students to immerse in our culture. We promote belonging for students through participation in activities of their choice.

Gradually, we are moving towards tangible sustainability projects beyond turning off lights and recycling, to become focal points in our curriculum. Our bore water and run off rainwater tank are a beginning but I have already asked the P & C to consider ‘investing in our planet’ by installing photovoltaic technology on our roofs to produce power credits to the grid. A more efficient solar panel is coming on line next year that would make such an investment feasible. A noiseless wind turbine generator is also on the market.

We have responded to the advanced digital skills and orientation of our students through Moodle Services and ‘R’ Drive networking. Our accelerating program to install data projectors and sound systems in every room will empower teachers to video stream the digital world to the classroom.]

Volleyball

Congratulations to Tony, Ivan, Hugh, Patrick, Jacky and Merlin on being awarded their District refereeing qualification.

High won both 1sts and 2nds against Newington on the weekend. 1sts maintained their unblemished record, going through in straight sets. Composition Workshop

Our senior music elective students participated in a compositional workshop last Thursday at the MLC School with up and coming professional Australian composers - one working with each school. The afternoon session saw performances of works they had created that day. The boys were highly inspired and took away an understanding of the processes and time required for a successful composition.

Results and match reports from Saturday 28 July 1st grade Won 3-2 v Scots

In a thrilling match, 1st grade recorded their second consecutive victory. An early goal to skipper, Gehan Karunaratne and a thoroughly deserved goal to Josh Weight were matched by Scots, to see the scores level at 2-2 till late in the contest. The second of the Scots goals was an audacious chip from 40 yards that surprised keeper Lachlan Street.

High dominated the later stages of the game, creating several excellent chances that they failed to finish off. Then with only minutes left, substitute George Lo crossed into the box and after a brief goal mouth scramble, Jeremy Luscombe was rewarded for his determination, to bang home the winner to the delight of the pleasingly large crowd that had assembled.

2nd grade. Won 2-1 v Scots

With High controlling possession early on, a snap left foot shot from George Lo came close to the near post. Scots rallied but High remained composed and disciplined keeping the play in the opposing half and rallying threateningly around the penalty box. High were finally rewarded when a hard working Sam Burnham played George, whose angled shot beat the Scots keeper at the near post to make it 1 nil at the break.

The second half was a much more physical encounter with Anthony Tsiallis making his presence felt and Mark Spencer keeping a close watch on the Scots strikers both personally and sportingly. Effectively marshalled by Captain Harry Walker, High took the game to Scots once more, earning a corner, and from the scraps another elegant George Lo strike over the Scots keeper doubled the lead.

Scots began to come hard at High, contesting every ball and finding gaps through the field. A lovely run from one of the Scots strikers beat two defenders and came close, and soon after went one better with a through ball that saw Bernard Wei exposed and the score move to 2-1.

High remained focused and played one of their best games of the season to maintain possession and fiercely contest the ball in defence. Scots began to lose composure and had two players sent off and to the team's credit throughout the game they remained focused on the task at hand and superb sportsmen.

Reports from other matches

14As Won 3-1

Throughout the first half, we did well to put pressure on their defence and a beautiful volley by S Lane almost gave us the lead. Scots' shot for goal, although missing by a metre, had the referee blowing the whistle for a goal. If it weren't for our screaming supporters and parents, and a few honest Scots players they would have had the lead. However, the referee reversed the decision. With minutes from half-time N Baghwat took a free kick, sending W Shao streaking past defenders on the right wing, sliding one past the keeper into the bottom corner.

Going into the second half, 1 goal up meant our spirits were high. After only minutes, Max Connell sent a cross in from the wing to W Stefanidis who was in perfect place to head the ball straight past the keeper. Trying not to let ego get in the way, we played on, now 2-0 up, however Scots managed to score, giving us no space for error. Until the whistle, we played, hearts beating, hoping against another goal which might see a much unwanted draw. With minutes to go G Garayalde sent a perfect volley at their goals, hammering the top bar, only for W Stefanidis again to head the descending ball past the keeper, sealing the game 3-1. L Vlatko defended especially well, saving us from many goals. R Caetano also played well, assisting in the setup of goals, and the keeper Andrew Ye had Played his best game yet, keeping incredibly well.

15As Win 2-1

After capping off a great win over Joeys, High was prepared to take on a grudge match against Scots. Having lost 1-0 in the last two years despite dominating, we were eager to break the hoodoo and continue our streak. Our first goal came to Kieran after a through ball to Andy resulted in a low cross, which was driven low at the keeper. The second half signified a mini come back from Scots. We were unfortunate to concede with their forward taking their only decent shot of the game which penetrated the always-so-steady Josh. Chances came hobbling as both Andy and Enoch missed valuable chances, before Jeremy received a decent low cross which he clobbered past the keeper. Gratitude also go to Robin who had to miss half of his game to watch us beat Scots. I suppose it was worth it after all.
