

From the Principal

Welcome Back To Term 3

I trust all members of the school community have returned well, refreshed and ready for another busy term. Our Joint Staff Development Day with SGHS was hosted by SBHS this year. Our keynote speaker was Dr Ben North, Principal Research Officer, Centre for Educational Statistics and Evaluation. He presented an overview of recent research on gifted education as the background to the development of the new Gifted Education Policy to be released later this year to replace the 2004 policy. Faculties from both schools also had the time to explore issues of interest to them in workshops.

High Talent

Alex Yeung (10S) and Roy Lin (10M) are members of the NSW U15 table tennis team. Alex recently represented NSW in the Australian Senior and Youth Championships U21 team, winning silver in the team event. Congratulations to Joshua Lam (10F) who has been selected as an Indigenous Literacy Foundation Student Ambassador. He is one of ten students in Australia tasked with promoting the cause of improved literacy for indigenous students. Joshua also was invited to be part of the 'Secretary for a Day' executive shadowing program. William Winter (10E) was honoured at city Tattersalls club for completing their Max Potential Program. Great job, William! At the GPS Rifle Shooting competition held this week, High's young team acquitted themselves well. In the Second Grade competition High placed second and finished third in the First Grade contest. Jackie Wu (8F) was selected in the Combined GPS team to compete this Sunday – a wonderful individual result! Our Hume Barbour debating team won their inter-regional debate this week. Well done to Alex, Justin, Guy and Simeon!

Notice to Students and Old Boys

The school is still holding 2016 photographs. These will be disposed of by August 17 if they are not collected.

Notice to Parents and Students

Recently, two student laptops have been damaged accidentally while being used in the playground. Laptop security is the responsibility of each individual student. We encourage boys to exercise and socialise during breaks, instead of playing games on their devices or accessing social media. The school will not be held responsible for damage to individual devices that may result from their use in the playground or in corridors.

Recent Media Attention

Recent Sydney Morning Herald articles have questioned the elite nature of selective schools and how some of them raise significant amounts of money, whereas most comprehensive schools do not. A parallel assertion is that selective schools do not increase equity in education because the parents of so many of their students are in the upper quartile of the Index of Socio-Educational Advantage. This index has its critics (see Brent Michael's SMH article from 19.7.18). Sydney Boys was singled out (as it has been many times before) for raising the most money of any government school. After consultation with school community representatives, I sent the following email to the Education editor at SMH.

"I am loathe to reply to inquiries from journalists because they inevitably slant the subsequent published story in ways that do not help the school's mission – to provide opportunity for excellence for gifted boys. It is tiresome that each year some newspaper does a story on how much money is collected by particular state schools. Sydney Boys High is in a unique position as a six-day government school with commitments to engage in weekend sport and after hours' activities as a consequence of its membership of the AAGPS. Sports and co-curricular activities are offered in depth to our students. These activities are expensive and funded by our engaged and supportive parents. The particulars of our fundraising needs and expenses I am not prepared to disclose to the SMH. To support our belief in equal opportunity, charges and levies for those families in necessitous circumstances are written off and absorbed by the school community".

COLA Refurbishment

Our COLA has had a complete makeover. The artificial grass has been replaced. Repaired or replaced netting has been suspended from chains to do away with the metal poles we had before. In order to preserve our refurbished asset, I have decided to engage in a community use agreement with Sydney Cricket Academy to operate the COLA for an initial period of 12 months. Darius Visser, the proprietor, is well known to our cricketer community as a cricket coach. Training times will be reserved for cricket and fencing at no cost to the school. We expect that the security and maintenance of the COLA will be enhanced under the management of a commercial operator.

Meet The Prefect

Most students will make it to the school through a test, but the real test is what you do when you get here. The choices you make, the groups you join, the people you meet. All of these decisions will affect whether or not you are able to get the most from your experiences at Sydney High. As the Student Groups and Clubs prefect, I see my goal as ensuring that all students, especially those in junior years are aware of the opportunities that are available to them. I believe students that engage in the school culture and tradition will have a more enriching school experience.

Academics cannot be the only thing in a healthy student life. Whether it is through sport or various extracurricular activities, Sydney High provides a well-rounded experience for the boys of this school. When students are able to bond with their peers over shared interests in student groups then the comradery that fosters is the basis of High Spirit. I found this through Rowing and Rugby where time spent with strangers turns into friendships that will last far longer than high school. As a prefect of this school I can guide younger students towards opportunities that will have a positive impact on them. In doing so I feel as if I am giving back to a school that has given so much to me.

ANZAC Centenary Project

On Monday 25 June, the Anzac Memorial at Hyde Park hosted a small yet significant event in regards to its Anzac Centenary Project, which aims to revitalise the memorial as a centre of historical education and national commemoration. As part of the efforts, artist Fiona Hall proposed an art project to be built beneath the memorial, showcasing a plaque for every town, suburb and locality around NSW that enlistees for the First World War gave as their place of address; alongside a sample of soil collected from each area.

Robert Hoang (12T) and Dinan Pingamage (11T) were fortunate enough to attend this event, which consisted of a number of attendees including school students, council members and military veterans. The event was hosted by David Elliot, Minister for Veterans Affairs, who took a sample of soil from the Anzac Memorial in Hyde Park, the last of 1,701 soil samples comprising the Anzac Centenary Soil Collection Project. We had the pleasure and opportunity to contribute to this soil sample.

The revitalised Anzac Memorial at Hyde Park is due to re-open at the end of this year, and will showcase the new art project designed by Fiona Hall as well as an upgrade to the existing Pool of Reflection.

Sydney High School Cadet Unit

From the 7th to 14th of July, over 170 cadets attended the 2/2018 promotion courses conducted by HQ NSW ACC BDE at Singleton Military Area. From SHSCU, CDTSGT Andy Li, CDT CPL Alan Jessup, CDT CPL William Cui and CDT CPL Kevin Tran attended the Senior Leaders Module One course (SLMOD1) as trainees, with CDTSGT Andy Li as one of the many directing staff. The purpose of the course was to provide skills and knowledge required to fulfil the role as a senior leader within the Australian Army Cadets (AAC).

Lessons were taught by experienced staff members, covering topics such as 'leadership styles', 'designing a training program' and 'duties of a senior leader in the unit and field'. Major assessments included conducting a period of instruction, operating in a command post, delivering platoon orders and supervising a navigation exercise. As a directing staff member, CDTSGT Li assisted in organising periods of instructions, taught lessons and administered practical activities such as camouflage and concealment.

Living in a barracks environment for a week with minimum technology, sound catering and poor accommodation doesn't look like the ideal way to spend the holidays but looking back at the experience and knowledge gained it certainly weighs out. Surrounding yourself with completely new people in an unusual environment is a great way to develop leadership and promotes the value of teamwork. Coursemanship was greatly encouraged, making sure everyone else passes the course, helping fellow corporals in areas they require assistance and having a positive influence. I am pleased to say that the trainees from SHSCU achieved all competencies of the course without retest and are recommended for promotion to CDTSGT.

Ruse Bivouac 2018 Report

From the 30th June to 1st July, Sydney High School Cadet Unit (SHSCU) attended a joint bivouac with James Ruse Agricultural High School Army Cadet Unit. This camp took place over the course of a weekend. Starting early Saturday morning, 15 cadets from SHSCU boarded the bus at High on our way to Marramarra National Park. On the way, we stopped at James Ruse Agricultural High School to be reunited with old friends and to organise the distribution of rations for the next two days, as well as to form the cadets into two companies.

Upon arrival at the national park, we prepared ourselves for the first challenge of the bivouac: a 3km hike to the night location. When we had successfully completed the hike, we began preparing our hutchies for that night, as well as helping James Ruse recruits to set up their hutchies. After that, the recruit company and the cadet company split off into two different activities. The recruit company began with bullring activities that included the setting up of an RTF200 radio set, the revision of first aid in the field and a camouflage and concealment activity. After all the sections had an opportunity at all the activities, the recruits proceeded to have lunch and begin their navigational exercise. The navigational exercise was to be a test of the recruits' abilities to lead a section, carry out radio procedures and navigate from one checkpoint to another. Overall there were around 20 checkpoints, so this activity took up most of the afternoon. When we had gotten back to the night location, exhausted from the NAVEX, we moved on to the night activities. One of the night activities was a game of lantern stalk that required the recruits to find their way from one end of a field to the other and back without being spotted by any of the patrolling NCOs. It was a game that required patience and proficiency in tactical movements. The other night activity was drama skits and trivia, organised by CDTWO2 Jason Zhang and CUO Robert Hoang. After the cadets had shown off their creativity and knowledge, everyone headed back to the night location to go to sleep.

On Sunday morning, everyone started off with some physical training that included tai chi and running. After everyone had breakfast and packed up their hutchies, we all prepared for a whole day of a modified game of king of the hill. The recruit company and the cadet company were competing against each other to gain control of checkpoints that were scattered throughout the park. These checkpoints were discs that had codewords written on them. These codewords were to be radioed in to headquarters to gain control of the checkpoint. Every gained checkpoint added to the respective company's points, as well as holding the checkpoint for a prolonged period. There was also an element of ambush involved in the game. All sections were equipped with two water sprayers and these could stop another section for five minutes if shot at the section commander. This was an interesting element, since the ambush could be foiled if anyone was spotted hiding in the bush. This meant that the cadets had to apply the lessons that they had learnt in camouflage and concealment.

After a couple of hours, the game was announced finished and everyone prepared to leave the park. The Sydney High cadets said their last goodbyes to the James Ruse cadets, as we got onto the bus, heading back to school.

From the Canteen
Welcome back to Term 3.

We are very pleased to inform the school community that the initiatives adopted as part of Healthy Canteen

Agenda, a couple of years ago have won praise from Canteen Association. As part of agenda, "red" foods have been steadily replaced with wholesome menu options. Our extensive range of reasonably priced, hot and cold foods include wraps, rolls, soups, sushi, sandwiches, pasta, foccacia and rice box, prepared on the premises daily as well as some commercially sourced pies, dons and pides.

This would not have been possible without sound business practices and innovative thinking on the part of our canteen staff as well as steady, ongoing support of school community. High Canteen proudly continues to remain one of few parent-run high school canteens in Sydney. Not only are we financially viable, High Canteen manages to return all operating profits for deserving projects that benefits our scholar sportsmen. We look forward to continuing this wonderful partnership.

High Canteen relies heavily on the support of our parent volunteers. If you have a few hours to spare each month, please consider helping out. Full training will be provided and language is no barrier. Karen and Tracey would love to hear from you (Tel: 96629350).

We would like to acknowledge the following parent volunteers for last 3 weeks of Term 2:

A reminder that a number of NEW hot food options, including hot chocolate are available. High Canteen would like to encourage boys to pre-order recess and lunch before 9am daily. This will greatly reduce waiting times and food wastage while also ensuring that you don't miss out on popular foods. We understand that it is frustrating to move up the queue only to find that an item is sold out. Please help us serve you better.

Student wellbeing

"Is he OK?" How do we ensure the wellbeing of our sons?

I am pleased to announce that the SBHS Wellbeing Team and SBHS P&C have collaborated to create an exciting new initiative Student Wellbeing Workshops for High Parents.

These workshops will address a number of growing concerns that parents are expressing to the Wellbeing Team at SBHS. They will take place in the Junior Library and will start promptly at 7pm.

Each workshop will commence with a presentation by an expert in the field and will be followed by questions which have been submitted by parents beforehand and/or small group discussion so that parents can share their concerns and gain support from each other.

We are launching the seminars in semester 2 2018 with the following two workshops. I would like to thank Joanna Chan, Head Teacher Wellbeing; Stephanie Francis, P&C Wellbeing Rep and Ronald Trent P&C President for their assistance in the planning of this exciting new program.

7-9pm 28 August 2018 Sleep for Better Health, Resilience and Performance

Do you worry that your son is not getting enough quality sleep? Is your son staying up late at night either completing H/W or assessment tasks or gaming? Does your son find it difficult to get to sleep? Does your son find it difficult to get up in the morning or complain about feeling tired?

If you have answered yes to any of these questions then this workshop is for you.

In this workshop we will discuss:

- Why do we need sleep?
- What happens to our brain and body when we sleep
- How much sleep do we need to function optimally?
- Effects of sleep deprivation on our learning, emotional health, behaviour and body
- Causes of sleep deprivation including physical, psychological, habits and lifestyle
- Impact of electronic devices on sleep
- Signs of sleep deprivation
- Smart sleep habits
- Where to get further information and/ or professional help

Presenter, Lisa Maltman established The Sleep Connection to meet the growing need to educate students, teachers and parents in schools on the importance of sleep health. She collaborates with key Australian adolescent sleep specialists and psychologists from the Woolcock Medical Institute in Sydney which is world-renowned in the area of sleep research.

7-9pm 14 November 2018 - Untangling Your Teen From Technology: Practical Strategies For Parents

In this hour-long seminar psychologist, Jocelyn Brewer, will help parents understand aspects of technology, app and game design that prove so seductive to teens. Her fear-free, practical approach will help parents build skills to communicate with their kids, implement boundaries and consequences for behaviours (both online and off). She will touch on issues around digital distraction and dependence and introduce the concept of Digital Nutrition as a framework for considering how to shape healthy online habits which maintain our mastery over our tech world.

Jocelyn Brewer is a Sydney – based registered psychologist with a special interest in the psychology of technology. She has over 13 years experience in public education as a teacher (including at SBHS) and a school counsellor. Jocelyn is regularly asked to comment in the media on a range of issues but especially on the impacts of technology and digital wellbeing. Her concept of Digital Nutrition being best practice for balanced tech use and healthy relationships with digital devices is very much in line with the philosophy behind BYOD at SBHS.

We are thrilled to announce a special excursion for Year 9 this year: we have managed to book seats in early November for a live matinee performance of Shakespeare's Macbeth at the Pop-Up Globe Theatre. The Pop-up Globe is finally bringing its critically acclaimed productions and unique venue to Sydney, and will be walking distance from Sydney Boys at The Entertainment Quarter at Fox Studios. Macbeth is a haunting and timeless tragedy that explores the darkest corners of the human mind set in a world where the supernatural is real and the quickest way to the top is by murder. Macbeth, presented by Pop-up Globe's mixed Southampton's Company sees darkness, chaos and conflict unfold. The Pop-Up Globe is a unique open air theatre, and is a replica of the original theatre which presented many of Shakespeare's plays to Elizabethan and Jacobean audiences. The boys will experience what theatre was like for 'groundlings', and see Macbeth as it was originally intended to be enjoyed: this is a raucous, immersive live-theatre experience not to be missed.

Holiday Football Camp

The school holiday camp from 18-20 July at Centennial Park was a great success. We had 34 students across most of the junior age groups all with world cup fever. A skills-based theme made sure all players got as many touches on the ball as possible, helping them develop their first touch. Fun small sided games at the end of the sessions were a welcome reward for the efforts put in. The Football Focus coaches were really impressed with the improvement over the three days. A great success.

UNSW Yunus Social Business Health Hub

Work experience placement for high school students

The Work Experience Placement (WEP) is an initiative of the UNSW Yunus Social Business Health Hub (YSBHH), School of Public Health and Community Medicine. It aims to provide workplace opportunities to high school students to learn practical skills related to Nobel Laureate in Peace, Professor Muhammad Yunus's Social Business model.

Social Business is a social cause driven business model where investors only withdraw their capital not the dividend/profit. Prof Yunus's vision is to eradicate poverty from the world by unlocking the potentiality in poor and deprived people. According to him, "Poor people are bonsai people. There is nothing wrong with their seeds. Only society never gave them a base to grow on."

The placement explores concepts and principles related to solving global social, economical, health and environmental problems.
