

From the Principal High Talent

In a first for High, five tennis players were named in the CHS NSW first team – Stevie Young, Matthew O’Sullivan, André Putilin, Samuel Yu and Antonio Li. Congratulations to the boys for their fine individual performances.

Hugh Bartley (12R) has qualified for the regional final for the Lions Youth of the Year Program. It was gratifying to receive a congratulatory email from Abbotsleigh School after their recent Q & A on Mental Health. Our boys were described as well-groomed and were judged as impeccable speakers. Congratulations to attendees Danny Nguyen, Wanyu Tang, Nigel Zhang, Pai Yu, Desmond Ho and Hugh Bartley. Congratulations also to all our fencers who won the Roberta Nutt Shield as the school with the highest point score in this prestigious competition.

Tell Them From Me Survey

The Learning Bar works with the Department of Education in NSW to provide the TTFM survey, platform, training and helpdesk support to members in government schools across NSW who are taking part in the survey. Sydney Boys High School has signed up again for the upcoming first snapshot of the Tell Them From Me (TTFM) student survey, Monday 13 March – Friday 7 April. We are surveying Year 7 – 11 students. Year 12 students have their own exit survey later in the year. This year we have added some extra questions about matters of interest to our school in particular.

We ask for your participation in the TTFM survey. Parents and students are reminded that is a voluntary survey and that logging on by students implies parental consent to engage in the survey. Information given is confidential and will not be used in any way that identifies a person or the school. The data from the TTFM reports have been useful for the school executive as sources of student and community voice on matters affecting experiences at or with SBHS. It helped us considerably during our external validation in 2016. Additional information for parents, including translated consent forms and parent FAQs, can also be found on the CESE website at: <http://surveys.cese.nsw.gov.au/information-for-parents>. The permission note for parents is on the parent’s portal. If you DO NOT want your son to be involved, please download and complete the form and send it to school with your son.

Students who participate will be rewarded with Student Award Scheme points. For students, the process is the same as for previous surveys.

Invoices for Summer Activities Co-payments

Families in Year 7 and later year enrolments, have had invoices posted for term 1 activities. Despite these charges, most activities are also heavily subsidised from school funds, particularly in direct grants from school funds (general service contributions), provision of MICs, teacher supervision, WHS compliance costs and first aid costs (co-curricular supervision levy) and parking allocation support. Co-payments are used primarily for the provision of coaching. In basketball alone, a team of over 50 people deliver the program! We have staff, students, Old Boys, parents and volunteers working to make your son’s school experiences more enjoyable. It would be appreciated if you could make your co-payments promptly. Thank you.

International Women’s Day Assembly

This week High hosted the Honourable Tanya Plibersek, Member for Sydney, at a special International Women’s Day Assembly. The Deputy Leader of the Opposition spoke eloquently about gender inequality in Australian society, citing a number of statistics to illustrate her argument that women are treated differentially in many contexts by men and suffer as a result. She really enjoyed the video screened at the assembly. It set a great tone to start a week of activities to celebrate women’s achievements. My speech to the assembly is reprinted below:

Special Guest the Honourable Tanya Plibersek, Member for Sydney and Jansson Antmann (SHS-1992), staff and students welcome to the International Women's Day Assembly. It is important for us to recognise this international day because we have the development of respectful relationships as an element in our school plan. We can play our part if 1200 young men leave our school and become respectful partners, husbands and fathers. I applaud the initiative of the student leadership group to make this a week of awareness raising about inequality.

The concept of International Women's Day sprang from the feminist protest movement of the first decade of the twentieth century. The most glaring form of inequality is in citizenship. The initial focus of female protest was enfranchisement. Gaining the right to vote was a critical first step on what was, and remains, a complicated and incremental journey towards equality for women.

The first truly international day of celebration and aspiration for women was held in four European countries on 19 March 1911. By agreement in 1913, International Women's Day was held on 8 March, where it remains. The day has always had a twin purpose. It functioned as a clarion call for gender parity. It was also a collective day of global celebration. Then, as now, women (and men who believed in equality) are asked to stand together, to celebrate the achievements of women, to reflect upon the condition of contemporary society and to take action where possible to lessen inequality.

In 1975, the United Nations sanctioned the celebration as an official event. Its recognition was past due. In 1960, Sirimavo Bandaranaike, in Sri Lanka, made history as the first female elected Premier Minister. Isabel Peron succeeded her husband and became the first female head of state, as President of Argentina, in 1974. Since that time, 70 countries have had a female President or Prime Minister.

On the face of it, equality should have been achieved in a society, if a political leader can be and is chosen from either gender. However, there remain lagging inequalities, even in a comparatively enlightened society like Australia, which remains gendered in many ways, despite a century of international awareness raising and action. Women suffer the discrimination of a pay gap, even where they perform identical work to men. Women are still under-represented in political parties and on boards of public companies. Women are still not treated equally in some contexts within health and education provision.

The most startling evidence of enduring gender inequality can be found in suburban and rural homes throughout our country. In 2015, 80 women in NSW died violently. Of these, some 80% died at the hands of an intimate partner. These cases are the tip of a very large iceberg. From assaults, to verbal abuse, from physical intimidation to imprisonment by withdrawal of finance, men are making the lives of many women intolerable. The way men treat women needs to change. The change starts with aware boys becoming respectful men behaving appropriately. Attitudes can be formed or modified by cultures in schools. Let's work to create the right culture for respectful relationships based on equality to flourish.

Today, we commence a week of positive celebrations of women's achievement at High. This assembly allows us an opportunity to welcome back to High the Honourable Tanya Plibersek MP for Sydney and Deputy Leader of the Opposition. High was previously in her electorate before the latest redistribution determined that the eastern suburbs really do begin at South Dowling Street and surrendered us to the tender mercies of the Member for Wentworth.

Ms Plibersek is a former Minister for the status of women and serves as an impressive role model for high achievement in a relentlessly unforgiving and patriarchal profession. Today, we also will introduce and recognise our Student Equality Committee, whose aim is to promote amongst our wider school community and greater sensitivity to societal issues of diversity and welfare. It promises to be an interesting week of activities. I am pleased that the initiative to make a significant event out of International Women's Day has come from our student leaders. Events like these mould character and modify culture. Let us celebrate how far we have come as a society and be mindful of the task that still lies ahead – equality for all.

"Happiness is only real when shared." – Christopher McCandless

My experiences at High start from long before I was ever accepted into these halls. At the young age of 9, I waddled through Sydney High's open day, wowed by the cool science experiments and the impossibly large size of the school. 3 years later, I returned to the school with a brand-new backpack, a bright smile, and strong hope for the future. I wasn't disappointed. My experiences at High can be summed up quite briefly in one commonly asked question – "Hey, didn't you do Rugby and Rowing?". My junior years were spent mostly focusing on the co-curricular activities available at High – playing rugby in the winter, doing rowing in the summer, with a few weeks of debating sprinkled in. My experiences with my fellow teammates were invariably positive, and the camaraderie of sharing in both the wins and the losses is one of the strongest emotions I have ever experienced. It's your teammates who will console you first after a tough loss, and your teammates who will cheer the loudest when you score. I guess what I've been saying is that high school is best experienced together with a friend, and as the prefect of clubs, I aim to provide a suitable environment for the students at our school to pursue other hobbies such as mah-jong, magic tricks, or anime in the company of others who share the same passions. Feel free to talk to me about joining or creating clubs.

Bandage Bear Day Collection 2017

As part of the annual bandage bear day on 3 March, twenty eight students from Sydney High gave up their Friday morning to raise vital funds for the sick children at Westmead Children's Hospital. Westmead Children's Hospital is relying on the community to lend a helping hand for sick children so that the hospital can continue purchasing the most advanced medical equipment and fund vital research that are crucial for the health of their young patients. The early morning collection was the first event this year for the CSC and we conducted it with the usual High spirit, with many members of the community applauding us for the time and effort we put in to such a great cause. This successful event gave us all the opportunity to give back to the community and overall was a great experience for all of us. We wish for all the patients at Westmead Children's Hospital a speedy recovery.

<http://aagps.nsw.edu.au/summer-sports/cricket/>

I have been involved with cricket for many seasons now and I can't recall ever having three cancelled weekends in a row. One of them due to extreme heat. This has been most unfortunate for all teams as the boys are eager to get on and play, especially the U13s and our undefeated 15As boys.

The 1st XI match was abandoned upon arrival of our team. Instead of having the food the parents graciously prepare for the day go to waste, we thought it better if it gets eaten. So, we had a team brunch with players, parents and coaches and the boys got in a card game.

1st XI having brunch and playing games

The 2nd XI hung around until 12:30pm until the umpires also abandoned their game.

Next week is our final round of the GPS competition before moving into the winter sports. Our final fixture is against Kings. It is highly likely that any games being played at The King's School will not be cancelled due to the area being more inland and good drainage.

Let's hope we can get on and finish the season off strongly.

To all parents and players, don't forget to go through the points below:

- Please make sure that all the boys wear SBHS logo hats and tops.
- Make sure they drink plenty of water and carry a drink bottle with them to training and fixtures.
- Please notify their coach if they are unable to attend training or their fixture.

14s Report

On Saturday, 4 March 2017, the 14s played St Ignatius' College at Riverview. Despite the opposition having first possession that they could not capitalise on, we were able to apply pressure with some hard work by our defence and so grabbed an early lead. Great support by our drivers to our wings allowing us to maintain the pressure as we carried our small lead into the second half. In the second half, SIC was able to hit back early due to some sloppy play by our team. This stage was overall a patchy performance by the 14s. The pressure applied by SIC was telling on each of our players, which saw the team being pinned down as we saw the final quarter with a precarious two-point lead. The boys fought hard to maintain the lead while the opposition kept chipping away at us and in the final minutes they had hit twice. Despite the continued pressure, the boys managed to hold on and scrape through with a single point win 7 - 6. Overall a great effort from our boys and they keep their undefeated streak alive. Good job boys, well done.

Jeffrey Lin

2nd Grade Report

This week's game was fruitful, and we came away with a close win. We played St Joseph's College at Hunters Hill again. They have a unique pool where half the pool was raised where players are able to stand, and the other half is deep enough that normal water polo style is resumed. We began badly, and for the whole game we trailed by 1 point amidst a series of full court shots and poor defence by us. Unlike other games that we have played, their relaxed nature and joking around led us into a false sense of security, joking around with them and generally playing a bad game. During the second half, we began to play more seriously, setting up plays and utilising the centre forward as much as possible, however we were attacking the shallow end, meaning they were able to stand on the bottom and easily block even our best shots. Noticeably, our changed attitude came to the game and we managed to stop all of their rushed shots. In the last quarter no longer were Joeys taking full shots, but began to play as hard as they could. With us still trailing by one point, we played with more energy and a more satisfying style, despite the size of Joeys and the help the defence got from the pool, we levelled the scores with two minutes left. They started with the ball, but we quickly gained possession, passing it up to their goal. A perfect pass from Jonathan Zheng to myself secured the essential but close goal, and we were finally in the lead. We scrambled back to half way, ready to defend as hard as we could, but a quick shot blocked by Daniel Fan secured us the win with 15 seconds left. On the buzzer, the score was 10-9, which was a good win for Sydney Boys 2nd Grade. Special mention to Ned, who consistently coaches us every week, and to Joshua Ng, for his first goal this season. Next week we hope to once again close off the season well with a win, and congratulations to the team on a game this week.

HIGH TENNIS

1st Grade Report

On Saturday, the First-Grade High team played at home against Sydney Grammar. We went into the fixture on top of the ladder, with a 2-point lead against premiership rivals Newington College. The forecast for the day was not good, but we came prepared with six freshly-repaired squeegees which Stevie's father had helped us put together. I think we squeegeed almost ten times from 11 am onwards, and each time we had squeegeed the water off all the courts, it began to rain. It wasn't until 2.30 pm until we could get the courts to dry completely and commence play, leaving us 3 and a half hours to play. We did have a short interruption of play half an hour into the matches, but we resumed a short while after, luckily. All matches were won extremely comfortably and luckily too as not even ten minutes after we finished the day, it began to pour. We consolidated our lead on the ladder with a 12-0 victory against Grammar, and increasing our lead against Newington to 8 points. Our matches against Kings this week will mark the end of a great season. I urge all High Boys to try to come and watch either the First Grade or Second Grade tennis teams who are both leading their respective divisions and are looking to capture the GPS titles. This would be a first for the Second-Grade team and the first time the First grade has won since 2003.

Matthew O'Sullivan

2nd Grade Report

After a disappointing cancellation, the previous weekend, the entire team were itching to get on the courts despite the ominous promise of rain. We were still half a point behind Scots, and if there was any chance that we would place first, 2nd Grade needed a great result against Grammar. Fortunately, we defied the wishes of the weather gods and started our matches at around 2:30pm. The doubles matches played according to plan, with Wanyu and Khobi at number one dropping only one game as well as Andy and myself at number three. Danny and Aaron had a slower start but eventually finished their match comfortably in straight sets too. In the singles, Wanyu bested his opponent in straight sets, improving his performance from the trials (where he won in three sets). Danny, Aaron and myself were able to win in straight sets too, and Khobi provided his best performance to date, winning 6-0 6-0. Andy, substituting for Cyrus who was injured, continued his undefeated streak in GPS tennis, winning easily 6-0 6-1. Scots were unable to finish all of their matches, placing us first on the ladder. This means that we are one step closer to our premiership dream. Hopefully, with one more week of focus and hard work, we can make that dream a reality.

CHS Tennis

Last week, several Sydney Boys High students went to North Parramatta to play in the CHS individuals' trials. These students were Cyrus Dadgostar, Andy Danis, Hikaru Ikegami, Andre Putilin, Samuel Yu, Matthew O'Sullivan, Stevie Young, Patrick Huang, Andrian Panas, Henry Yu, Khobi Deep and Antonio Li. The matches at Paramatta were the first to 9 and were played in a knockout draw. The top 8 students make up the CHS 1 team and the next 8 make up the CHS 2 team. Three Sydney High students made the CHS 1 team; Stevie Young, Matthew O'Sullivan and Andre Putilin, while Antonio Li and Samuel Yu made the CHS 2 team, meaning Five High students made the CHS team. The most out of any other school. These five players will be playing at Bathurst Tennis Centre from 20 to 21 March looking to make it through to the Pizzey Cup where the best schoolboys in Australia compete.

High Sailing

Saturday marked the annual Scots Teams Racing Regatta. High sent out a team of nine. They were Dallas Yan, Kai Huang, Ben Kernohan, Jarrod Khaw, Max Wharton-Jones, Edward Heaney, Jack Vorgias, Julian Alcorn, and Nicolas Palmer. With strong winds and a possible storm, we had a late start as we had to wait for the weather to settle. This was an important days sailing experience for us as many of the schools competing in the State Championships which we do not usually compete against attended, including Riverview and Knox. Our first race was against Riverview 1, who achieved second place at last year's State Championship. Their experience shone through as they used tactics to push us out of the start line, and quickly pushing ahead. However, High began to catch up by the last leg. As Dallas turned to look at the finish line, a Riverview boat tacked onto starboard and a light collision occurred, causing Dallas to do a penalty turn. The second race was against Scots 1, the winners of the State Championships. Dallas aimed for a pin start, but was rolled over by another boat and unable to tack. This caused him to hit the pin thus having to do another penalty turn. Kai and Ben tried to catch up but to no avail. Scots 2 was up next – (third place at the State Championships). We performed better in this race, keeping up relatively well but a capsize on the downwind leg caused us to lose positioning. With the top three teams out of the way, we performed better in the rest of the races. Relatively good starts against Mater Maria and Cranbrook 1 were lost with poor boat speed on the first upwind leg, however a decent start against Ascham 3 allowed us to keep up, especially with one of their boats capsizing at the start. Kai Huang forced himself into great positions creating a 2,3,4 positioning. The first boat attempted a mark trap on the bottom mark, successfully holding out Dallas and letting their teammate in, but Kai rushed in on starboard to hold out the previous first place and let his team mate through. This meant that no positions changed. The opposition then tried to push Dallas up on the second reach but a collision occurred without allowing enough room and an opportunity was presented. The umpire caught this and gave the opposition two penalty turns, allowing High to finish in 2,3,4 and winning the race. This showed that we have the skill to keep up with the other teams. With Kai feeling uncomfortable in the increasing winds, we ended the day against Knox 1. A good start was once again nullified by poor upwind sailing. Overall, it was a good experience for the team, and we showed that we could keep up with other teams given better conditions.

SHOOTIN' HOOPS

Mr Higgin's 15bs and cs continue to impress with their consistently fast pace

Welcome all to another week of Shootin' Hoops! A very successful week hammering Grammar, with 14s playing some hard-fought games, and 14As coming out on top in theirs. 15As continue to dominate in all grades, and opens played extremely well, with a few losses that were just out of reach. Well done to Oscar Dumas and Luke Schroeder dropping 22 and 16 points respectively, and Sebastian Diaz managing a double-double. Fantastic job boys.

Some more news for High basketball: Congratulations to our very own Mr Hayman for being selected as the AAGPS Representative Coach for All Schools. Good luck to him and any High boys who may be joining him. 2017 15s CHS contenders should make sure to not drop their game over the holidays, as CHS trials will be at the start of Term 2.

Congratulations to the Perth Wildcats, who swept the Illawarra Hawks in the Finals to take home the NBL title for 2017! This secured the Wildcats second title in a row, and their fourth since 2010. Bryce Cotton (who only one month before declined a return to the NBA; he must be happy about his decision) was the standout of the final game, dropping 45 points in 34 minutes to finish things off for his side.

The Basketball Dinner is coming up, make sure you have your gifts for your coaches! Deadline is 24th of March, so make sure your $40 and note are handed in by then. Award recipients must attend, as well as everyone else, to celebrate the year of basketball at High!

The GPS season is coming to an end, as High Plays Kings in the last game. Make sure to bring you're A game, because something tells me both teams will be eager to finish strong. Play Hard, Play Smart, Play Together. Go High!
