

From the Principal High Talent

Congratulations to Benjamin Coan (12E) and Jerry Chang (11F) who have been selected to represent CHS as NSW team members to compete in the Oceania U19 Volleyball Championships in Papeete (Tahiti) from 7-16 July.

Our fencing teams have qualified for the National Schools Team championships in all three disciplines – foil, sabre and épée.

Qualifying team members were: in Foil, John Tian (12), James Siu (11), Alexander Tan (10) and Owen Zhang (9); in Sabre, Arshad Mohamed (10), Kinzey Rahardja (11), Jonah Beer (10), Yu Ming Lee (7); and in Épée, John Tian (12), William Zeng (11), Roy Zheng (11), Brendan Kwan (11). Congratulations to all our team members on their success.

Joint SBHS-SGHS Drama Production

Our annual joint drama event with SGHS is on next week. This year there will be a production of "How To Succeed in Business without Really Trying". Book your tickets for the evening shows May 25-27 - www.trybooking.com/PQRE. The two schools have some very talented students. Please honour their hard work and support this joint schools initiative.

Uncollected Reports

All boys in Years 12 and 9 have had opportunities to collect their reports after a quick chat with the Principal. Ask your son for his. He may not yet have submitted his Clearance Form. It is important that parents and teachers have an understanding of the progress being made by each boy in the school. Every student matters. Every report is important.

International Day Against Homophobia and Transphobia 2017

My speech to the IDAHOT Day assembly is reprinted below.

Special Guest Alex Greenwich, Independent Member for Sydney, staff, students, I welcome you to our second annual assembly to acknowledge the International Day Against Homophobia and Transphobia celebrate on 17 May. Today we show our support for the LGBTI community in their quest for equality. Homophobia is a mainstream social issue because heterosexual people are still not coming to terms with the plain facts of sexual identity diversity. Extreme cases of denial are evident in the current state sponsored persecution of gay men in Chechnya. The recent controversy over the content of the Safe Schools program, indicates how socially and politically sensitive gender identification and sexuality issues are, even in mainstream Australian society. We need to be more mature on this issue and trust to the judgement of schools and teachers to address them appropriately according to their unique school community contexts.

The problem of acceptance of diversity is one that the majority impose upon the minority by their individual and collective failure to empathise, to imagine what it feels like to be diminished, insulted or physically abused, just for being who you are. If you knew what it felt like to be taunted, pushed around, jeered at or assaulted, you might be more inclined to leave other people alone, to be themselves. It is a fundamental human right. We should respect the dignity and worth of each person.

"All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights. They are endowed with reason and conscience and should act towards one another in a spirit of brotherhood." Article 1 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, was proclaimed at the United Nations on 10 December 1948. Before we say or do something that might injure, ridicule or offend another, we should remember this Article and act according to what we each know is right. Everyone, if asked, would agree that they would like that right for themselves, but might not be so convinced if it were suggested to them that it ought to be extended also to homosexual or trans gender citizens.

Article 2 of the Universal Declaration allows people to enjoy their rights "without distinction of any kind, such as race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status". Social institutions – families, villages, schools, cities or states – rely on some shared, fundamental values in order to function. We cannot pay lip service to these values and then act in ways that undermine them.

Here at High we have tried to walk the talk, through our involvement in the Proud Schools pilot project. We celebrate 'Wear it Purple day'. We have assemblies like these to raise awareness. We have an established values Education Program in the Junior School. Our recently established Equality Committee gives students a voice in raising awareness about how inequality happens in schools.

Sadly, despite all our attempts to show to our students and our community that we believe in these rights, some of our own students don't respect themselves or each other enough to put faith in the higher claim of human rights and instead are swayed.

Meet the Prefect-Intern

Just like most of you, I was brought up to believe achieving a result was far more important than how we got there. Our first experience of this was probably when we were all around 5 years old and our parents made us memorise the multiplication table, not caring how we did it but as long as we got it before everyone else in our class. When I sat my first exam in the Great Hall, played my first game of basketball for the High school I still firmly sat on that belief, we wanted that win, we wanted that top mark.

We are often told to set goals to achieve your dreams, but dreams in reality are just a series of goals, and a series of goals, a path you have to follow, a journey. These 6 years at High has certainly enlightened me to the fact the journey often teaches you a lot about the destination, so much, that in fact the journey is far more important than the final result. The things you see and feel shape you and your perceptions, the skills you pick up become tools for the future, and the people you meet along the way become friends for life. This was my life at High, all the little things that I've experienced building onto each other, the hyped huddles in the timeouts after going up by 15 against Joeys 2nds, to the roar when your mate has a blistering 7 + meter, medal winning jump in the final GPS Athletics meet, and even that time talking to Old Boys of the school and finding out you had the same maths teacher. Immerse yourself in the culture, buckle up, enjoy the journey and you'll never find yourself lost. And more often than not you come realise the outcome may not be as significant you as you've been led to believe. Just like that time you thought memorising the times table was the world of maths...until you discovered calculus.

Chinese Debating

Sydney Boys High students Daniel Hu, Justin Liu, Roy Zheng and I participated in the NSW Schools Chinese Debating Championship throughout mid-April to early May. We began with low expectations as a result of our competition being comprised of 'Background' speakers as opposed to our 'Heritage' status.

However, through participation in multiple seminars, training sessions and mock debates with other schools we soon discovered that our advancement in the competition was viable. What we lacked in essential language skills was made up for with teamwork, preparation and frequent training sessions, leading us to early success with a score of 8.5-0.5 against Willoughby Girls High School on the topic 'The benefits of implementing e-sports into schools outweigh the harms.'

Justin acted as 1st speaker, bringing out the main arguments. Roy and Daniel fulfilled offensive roles in interrogating the opposition and weakening their case while I concluded and summarised our own case. Each member participated eagerly in free debate phases, demonstrating a synthesis of teamwork and improvisation. Although we did not advance into the quarter-finals, I still found Chinese debating to be extremely beneficial, allowing me to put both my Chinese and school debating skills into practice, especially challenging students who have a far greater aptitude in the language.

I recommend all future students of Chinese within our school to have a go in this competition; it's an invaluable experience regardless of your capability and gives you an opportunity to practice skills which aren't easily performed within the conventional classroom setting.

Special thanks to all the people who provided guidance and gave advice along the way; our coach Cynthia Wang, Ms Zhang without whom we would not have been able to participate, and my fellow Chinese classmates Henry Chen, Samuel Zheng and Chris Chang who contributed in preparing our case.

Debating Report

It's an exciting period in our Eastside and FED comps. It's rare to see FED teams make the semi-finals or finals due to the rotating nature of the squad so Year 7 reaching the Semi Finals in FED is a testament to the skill and depth of our debating program. Historically High has done quite well in Eastside, and we have carried on the tradition this year and all of the schools' teams often have some of the best debaters from their schools competing and thus it is a challenging competition. All teams who made it through should be congratulated on their success. I look forward to hearing about our wins next week and am sure that you will have fun along the way too. Making the Semi-Finals and Finals is a rare and unique opportunity, so be sure to make the most out of it. Good Luck!

Why should students and parents go?

The leap from high school to University is a daunting rite of passage.

You're going from mandated class attendance every week day, to being held accountable for your own learning.

How can you make sure this transition runs smoothly and successfully?

How do you keep up with the workload?

What's the best way to make the most out of Uni?

Boggabilla Cultural Exchange 2017

Dear Parents,

The Boggabilla Cultural program is one of the most special opportunities in which our boys are able to participate.

In Week 9 Term 2 the students from Boggabilla Central School will be coming to Sydney for their annual exchange and we need a number of billets for these students. If you are able to host students for the two nights (Tuesday 20 and Wednesday 21 June) could you please let me know? We try to billet in pairs where possible to alleviate anxiety for the students.

Boys who are billeting these students will also be involved in some of the activities held with them over the course of their exchange and will be guaranteed a spot when we visit them.

If you are able to billet students and are interested in your son participating in this exchange please email me on cottonm@sbhs.nsw.edu.au or alternatively get your son to speak to me ASAP.

I would like to lock down the spots quickly.

Many thanks
Mr Matt Cotton

From the Canteen

Building on the 2016 initiative to knock back "red" foods from High Canteen menu, Canteen committee has been holding meaningful discussions on role and responsibilities of a school canteen. Nurturing healthy eating choices will continue to be our priority and we hope to expand the range of nutritious but reasonably priced food options available to our scholar sportsmen.

This aligns well with the Healthy Canteen strategy, recently rolled out by the NSW government in a bid to tackle childhood obesity - a real problem that will not only burden our economy but also have other far-reaching implications. There is increasing evidence on the benefits of eating a wide variety of nutrient-rich foods from various food groups, with a big emphasis on fresh fruit and vegetables. A number of mainstream campaigns like Go for 2 and 5 and Eat It to Beat It have been actively promoting healthy eating in conjunction with exercise as a positive lifestyle choice. The onus lies equally on all stakeholders.

At High, we are privileged to have a wonderful three-way partnership between staff, students and parents. We encourage the extended school community to continue to support our endeavours as we implement new menu options and embed healthier eating choices. This will allow the P&C run canteen to return all profits generated through daily sales for specially earmarked projects that directly benefit our boys.

Our canteen managers Karen & Tracey rely heavily on the support of dedicated parent volunteers to keep operating costs low. If you have a few hours to spare each month, please do consider joining our canteen roster by calling 9662 9350. It is a great way of making new friends and staying in touch with the High family. Language is never a barrier and full training will be provided.

Student Wellbeing Matters (Term 2, 2017)

Year Advisers

At Sydney Boys High School, the Year Advisers are responsible for the wellbeing and its impacts on the learning of the students in their year group. They monitor students' academic progress, classroom behaviour, attendance and social adjustment; and refer to the counsellors, Career Adviser, School Learning Support Officer and Executive if necessary. They are usually the first point of contact for parents in relation to any issues or problems about a student.

There have been some changes to Year Advisers this term. Please find the relevant Year Adviser below:

Vaccination 2017 for senior students

All Year 11 and 12 students will be offered the Meningococcal

ACWY vaccine. The visit for school vaccination is on Monday 19 June, in alphabetical order from Year 11 and then Year 12. All Year 11 and 12 students must return their NSW school vaccination program consent form by the Monday 29 May 2017 to the box next to ID card scanning machine or to Ms Chan.

Cyber Surveys

Thanks to all Year 7 to 9 students who completed the Cyber survey. The school cyber team will be going through the results. We are planning to go through the data with students and parents and work on some strategies to cyber management.

During the week the 1st XI had their second round clash of the CHS knockout against South Sydney High School. South Sydney came out strong and were slightly ahead in regards to territory. They took the lead with 20 minutes to go. Our boys decided to give it everything and played our best football. We scored from a free kick with five minutes to go. The match went into golden goal and five minutes into extra time Aryan converted his second free kick for the match to take us into the third round.

It was a tough day out for our boys on Saturday against Grammar. The results are actually more of an indication on how strong Grammar have become in Football. With two prep schools to help develop their juniors they are definitely well prepared when they reach high school.

Oliver Avdi-Ohlsson from the 1st XI had a horrific incident, whereby a questionable tackle was made on him. The results have now shown that he has broken both his tibia and fibula and will be out for the season. This is a huge loss for the team. Not just with his skills, but his attitude and commitment he brings. The 1st XI team went and saw him in the hospital on Monday. We wish him a full recovery and be ready to go for 2018.

The U15s again are showing how much they have improved by having another goalless draw giving them three weeks in a row without a loss.

The social teams (5th-13th XI) are proving a handful for schools with six wins and three draws.

Next Saturday is the third round of the Plate Cup for the 1st and 2nd XI teams against Newington and our final trial match before the commencement of the GPS Season.

Good luck and keep working hard and the results will come.

Team of the Week 14s

The 2017 TAS trip was a weekend many of the 14s rugby players will remember. On the first night, we were treated to some live music in the TAS Performing Arts Centre before watching both basketball and tennis matches. The next morning it was our turn to represent the school. We fought hard, but in the end, the score-line didn't represent our efforts. Our men of the match were Varun Rana and Christian Lam, as they performed bravely, putting their bodies on the line in defence and running ferociously on offence. After that, we had some fun playing in the 7's match against their B's.

The TAS trip was a great experience for all of our boys and will be highly looked forward to in the future years.

1st XV

The yearly trip to Armidale has always been a trip to look forward to for many of the High boys. It is rare, many of the boys get a rugby road trip, the many hours spent on the road with friends; the jokes and antics involved, the conversations had and the circulation of photos of you or others sleeping in awkward yet funny positions. We departed on a cold Friday morning, to what would be the last Armidale trip for many of the year 12s heading up north for their last stay and competition at The Armidale School, arriving late in the afternoon to settle in for our accommodation for the next 2 nights.

The 1st XV had a disappointing game to say the least and unfortunately did not play to their expectations. We were unable to get into our groove throughout the game, unable to find our normal dominance in set pieces and sleekness in the backs, we apologise to the High spectators for our performance last Saturday. We managed to show glimpses of the talented team we know that we are on the weekend, with MoM Archie Fox, controlling and remaining calm and collected and there were great runs from Leo Li to carry momentum forward. It is to say that what has happened has happened and now we look forward as a squad, and there is no other direction but upwards. After this performance and as the weeks come, we will improve and promise a better result when Armidale come to Sydney. With a still new and developing squad, we will learn and get a firm foothold on the ladder when the GPS season starts in 3 weeks, but for now we look forward to our game next week.

1st XV Report

Last week was a very disappointing week for the 1st XV. With back to back losses, we realise this week is the week we will need to come together and re-evaluate our playing style so we can prevent outcomes like the past two weeks and bring pride back into Sydney High Rugby.

We kicked off on Aloysius Oval at 3:15pm in the afternoon after a great victory from the second XV who had played earlier, looking forward to carry on the winning momentum. Throughout the game, we had glimpses of our potential of what we could do even against a quality 1st XV side such as Aloy's with our new form of defence and given time, our abilities to use the ball on offense and become a posing threat to opposition.

Our start to the game in the first half saw us confront many problems that we were not accustomed to as a rugby side. Aloy's played with a greater speed and width than we were ever used to and caught us a little by surprise. Their strong and fast forwards had us on the back foot for the majority of the game, something we had never been subject to this season when our own forward pack was on the back foot. This whole new level drove us to push our bodies to much greater limits, attempting to match the quickness and efficiency of one better CAS 1st XV sides had to offer. The second half saw a much better result on our part in terms of defence and offence after a disappointing fumble in the first half. Our defence played better in the second half, showing a very plausible and effective new defence system that, we are still learning and attempting to implement properly into our game. This unfortunately did lead us to a couple of errors as we are still not used to the new system but did shut down the efficient and deadly Aloy's offence when we executed well.

The game however was ultimately disappointing as a result and as a send-off for a couple of our players (Ahad, Ethan, Connor, Leo, Archie and Tushaya) who are heading off to Armidale to the NSW CHS trials. We wish them the best of luck for their endeavours. And lastly, thank you to the second graders who stayed back since 12pm to watch and help out on the bench. It was a disappointing result and we will be looking to turn things around and push forward year 2 into success.

Team of the Week 2XV

Last Saturday, the 2nd XV achieved its first exceptional result of the season with a 38-7 victory over the St Aloysius 4th XV. Although down on numbers playing 13 a side, this did not have an effect on how well we played. After scoring a try in the first minute of the game, our spirits were high. Our attack dominated the first half and we maintained the upper hand, continuing to stretch our lead. With no reserves, we began to feel the strain of the game and early in the second half they were able to break through our defence. But, the two new players on our team stepped up. During half time, we encouraged Flidon to be more aggressive on the wing, and when the ball was spread wide, he smoked the defender and scored his first career try. He continued to play extremely well, scoring consecutive tries. Despite this, we continued to press hard on their attack, not wanting to give in, and hence on the last play of game through a brilliant set piece play, a popped ball found its way to Tony Li, who ripped the chalk and sealed the deal. Angus Chitty also played extremely well, converting tries from the sideline. Overall, it was an excellent game and we are all looking forward to a successful GPS season.
