

From the Principal High Talent

Congratulations to 'Dog day Afternoon' (Bill Wong of 10M) for his first place in NSW and the nation and in the recent ASX Schools Share Market Game 1. He wins $1000. Second place in NSW and in Australia, went to 'Sultans of Swing' (Tim Wan of 11T). He wins $500. Great results, boys! Well done to Old boy Craig Moller who was selected as an Australian Team member for the upcoming China tour. Congratulations to Ricky Pachon (SHS-2016) who will represent Australia in the Brazilian Jiu-jitsu World championship in California.

Interpreting Year 9 Reports – Semester 1

All Year 9 boys should now have their reports. Parents should be aware that students have fewer compulsory subjects in Year 9: English, mathematics, science, history, geography and PDHPE. They have added two electives to the core group. The cut-off points' standard for Year 9 is 24 (or 8 subjects at credit). Parents are cautioned that large fluctuations in points earned and rankings in the cohort can be caused by a few marks more or less at the cut-off scores for HDs, Ds or credits. Sometimes boys underperformed last year in subjects they knew they did not have to continue. This would cause a recovery in their rank this year if they tried harder in the subjects they chose. Conversely, the additional challenge of stage 5 work or a mistaken elective choice, could impact on a student's ranking negatively, particularly if he were good at the practical subjects in Year 8. In Year 9 students are expected to be developing some autonomy. They should be responsible for managing their personal workload and thinking ahead about what commitments they have in the near future. Ask to look at their personal organiser – electronic or paper, to see how well they are managing their time.

Governors Centre Ltd

The Governors Centre Ltd is a company limited by guarantee that acts as the joint legal entity in the negotiations between DoE and SBHS & SGHS. The Board met this week to draft its agreed response to the DoE's proposal regarding the funding, construction and operation of the Governors Centre. In the agreed Term Sheet, the Company sets out responses to the DoE proposal in relation to: the parties, the funding, the use of the building, the exclusive access by the schools, the scope of School Requirements, a proposed Joint Use Agreement between the schools for the operation of the building and an agreement with GCL for use of spare capacity, such as during school holidays. There will be a further period of negotiation before a final agreement is reached with DoE, but this agreement allows us to turn our focus towards operational matters. A working group, comprising the Deputy Principals from both schools, will work out the details of the Joint Use Agreement, including matters such as: each school's requirements, centred around calendars produced by each school; external use by public schools; external hire; parking and traffic control; administration of income and expenditure; equipment and technology needs and maintenance; cleaning arrangements, booking system; security; compensatory use by SGHS of SBHS tennis courts; and a dispute resolution process. There is much to do to work out how to share this great new asset when it is built.

Major Bequest

John Fraser (SHS-1933) lived 100 years. He was a rifle shooter at school with Sir Roden

Cutler. He re-engaged with the school about 12 years ago. He came to school functions and to the GPS Rifle Shooting at Hornsby. He was a guest at our rifle committee lunches. He was a spiritual person. He believed that ethics, morality and upright behaviour ought to be more important to us as a society. He thought the study of religions would help us to be more tolerant of each other. He sponsored prizes in perpetuity for Studies of Religion I and II. He had frequent contact with the school and with Cathy Meaney (MIC Rifle Shooting). As he declined in health, she visited him in his nursing home and kept him up to date with our great successes in his sport in recent years. He was a donor to the Governors Centre appeal. He believed the building would do a great deal to boost the arts and Humanities at High and would act as a catalyst for closer relationships with SGHS. We honoured John a few years ago at a school Presentation Night with a special trophy as he joined our very select group of Living Legends. His picture hangs next to the reception window at the main office. Each year he sent a cheque for at least $200 to assist with the rifle program.

In his will, John bequeathed to the school the residual of his estate. We recently banked >$350,000 as proceeds of the sale of shares and other securities. John's legacy has given our fundraising for the Governors Centre a big boost. I will always remember his immaculate hand writing and precise instructions about how to disburse donations he made. He really wanted the project to go ahead. He exhorted other Old Boys to support it. He showed the strength of his conviction in the size of his bequest. We will always honour his grand gesture.

We still need funds for the fit-out of the Centre, once it is constructed. Delays have meant cost escalations, so we need to keep on directing donations towards the project. I think John's example is uplifting. He believed in doing something very significant for his old school just because it would be able to keep giving to generations of other boys what he gained – challenge, camaraderie and boundless opportunity. Valé John.

Meet The Prefect Intern

Within my first year at High, I was dazzled by the culture and spirit present throughout the school. I've always admired the prefect body as they were the representation of high achieving students in both academic and sports. Hoping that I'd be able to represent the prefect body myself, I made it a goal which led me to re-join rowing, further my academic results, and become more involved in the school spirit. This really woke me up.

Nowadays, I'm proud to admit that the encouraging culture within the school has allowed me to achieve my goal. Throughout the journey, I was given the unique opportunity to represent the school in both the 1st XV and 1st VIII. This truly allowed me to see the invaluable experience of being a part of High Spirit through events such as the Head of the River and the AAGPS Athletics finals.

As Eedy House Captain, I encourage all juniors to seize this unique opportunity by trying out new sports and co-curricular activities, and to maintain a competitive attitude in all aspects of school life. One day, you may find yourselves sitting nervously at the start line of Head of the River or scoring a winning try over the opposition in rugby. The earlier you integrate yourselves within High's culture, the more relationships you will make and achievements you will accomplish.

Feedback from the P&C meeting 14th May:
'How to survive the HSC'

Many parents and students came along to the P&C meeting last Monday to meet our panel of six SBHS HSC 2017 graduates! The room was packed with curious parents and students with many questions being asked. Here are some of the answers from our six panel members:

Q: How did you manage your time?

A: Have a routine, aim for 7 to 8 hours sleep and try to get up at the same time. Setting deadlines helps to complete work in a certain time. Plan ahead, have a colour coded calendar that shows you the busy weeks ahead. Use Apps to help control your time like 'Forest - stay focused' or 'Self-Control to Focus - Lite'.

Q: Is it a good idea to drop or cut down on sport (to have more time to study)?

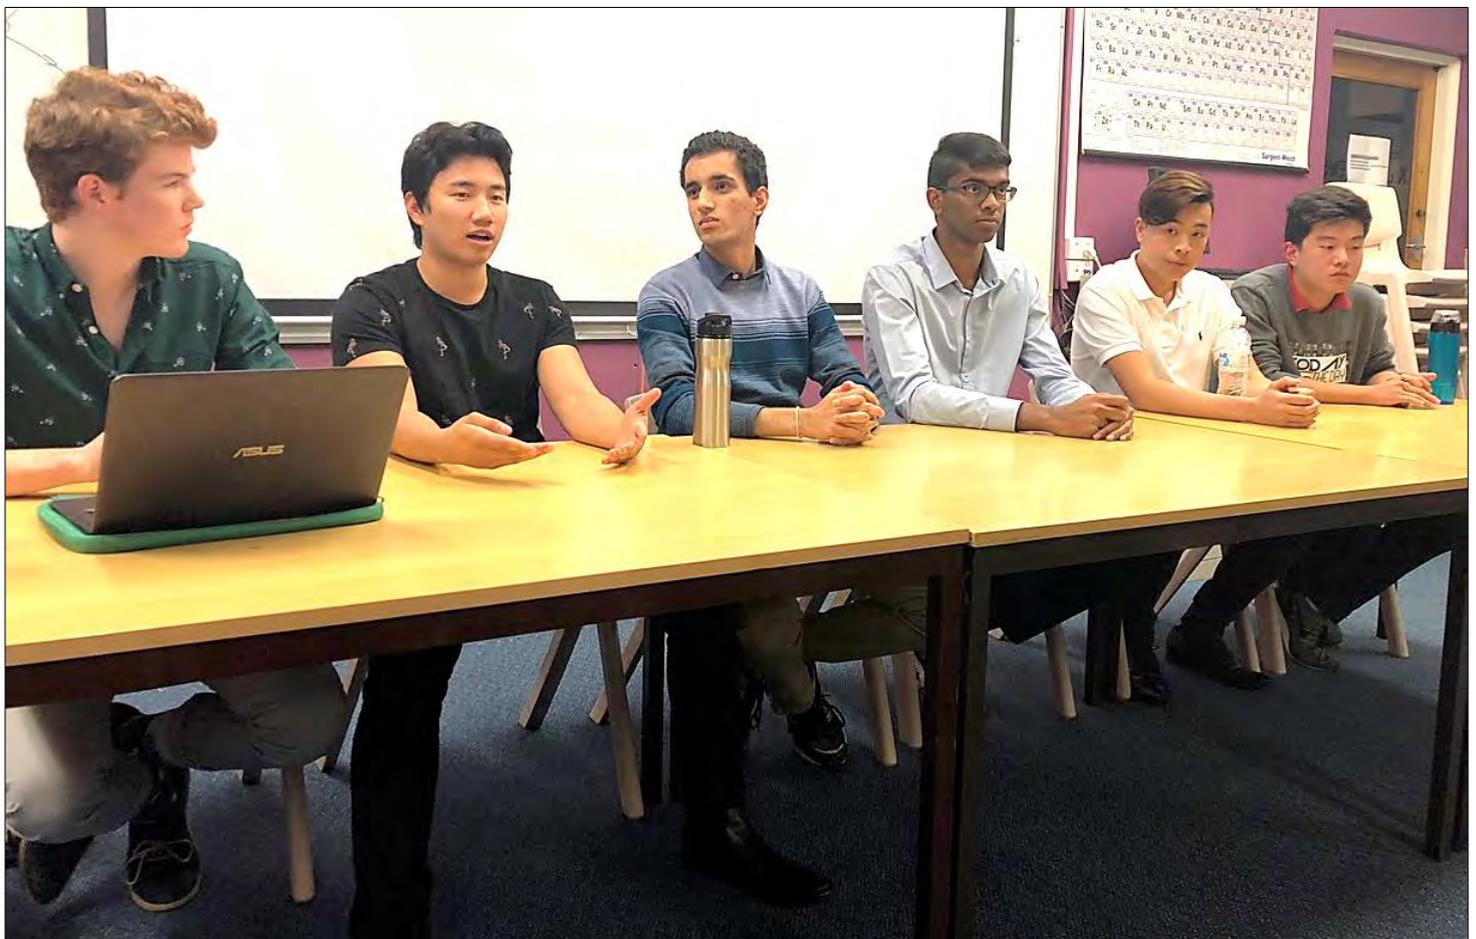

A: No! The more time you have the more time you waste. Sport is a stress reliever and stimulates the mind. It is frustrating to play lower grades if you know you can play at a higher level. Extra hours were used for computer games or social sites.

Q: How did you manage your social life in regards to parties, relationships?

A: Relationships can be a good way to relieve stress and forget about work. It depends on the individual. It helps if the partner is also academically focused. Maintaining a social life is important. You can still go to parties but it's good if you set yourself up for it. Plan for extra sleep beforehand, plan to go for a certain time only, set yourself boundaries, know your limits.

And a final message: it is important to follow your passion rather than your ATAR. Have a think about what you really want to do in future, what you want to do in life. Go to those career expos. Year 12 can be fun, don't get too worked up about it!

Cadets
RAAF-Richmond Airbase Visit

An early chilly morning at Richmond Airbase was one of great excitement. The day started with an amazing ride in a C130 Hercules over the Blue Mountains. The scenery coupled with the adrenalin rush when the ramp opened mid-flight made for an unforgettable experience.

After the flight, we were taken on a tour of some of the many maintenance hangars as well as having a look at smaller planes. This was an eye - opening experience, as we were taken through the many processes that all planes must undergo before being given the permission to fly. To top it all off we got to witness a plane take-off a mere 100 metres away from us. It was an awesome experience and is something all cadets are looking forward to doing again next year.

MIC Report

This week SBHS were away to Shore. Some strongly contested games. Just a reminder of the SBHS spirit. It is important that we have a positive mindset and are competitively aggressive in our approach. We should all feel proud to represent the school and play at the highest level possible. The challenge will make us all stronger. A special mention of two individual players this week. Firstly Asrith Devarapalli who scored 9 goals (yes that is right, nine goals) in his sides 16-0 win over Newington. A special mention of Kazi Hasan who was selected for the GPS U16 select team to play in the upcoming CIS Championships. In addition to this both Ozan Akarsu and Sean Montelabo have been added to the shadow squad. Well done boys, you have done yourself and your school proud.

1st XV Report

The First XV matched up well in the first half of the game against Scots this weekend. Our efforts weren't rewarded however, losing to their strong defence, 19-5 by the final bell. Their unorthodox blitz style of defence was unexpected and made us lose our composure, leading to our frustration and ultimately securing the win for the opposition. Moving forward, we will be looking to identify when we are starting to lose our poise, and by doing so, allow ourselves better decision making under pressure. Man of the match for first grade was Leo Li, who made good tackles and worked hard around the breakdown.

Archie Fox 12T

3rd Grade Match Report

A bitter one point loss. We lost the game on defence as we allowed the Scots team back into the game as they attacked us on the wings. The boys played with a lot of energy. The man of the match is Noah Casaclang for replacing Albie and scoring a try.

Dev Lalwani 12S

16As Match Report

This week we went up against Scots 16Bs. We had some incredible highlights but unfortunately yet again we let them slip through our line with some very simple mistakes such as unnecessary penalties and bad spacing. Resulting in a 3 tries to 2 loss. One of these highlights was when we pick and drove the ball from our 40 metre line for over 20 phases up the sideline to score at the other end of the field. As the referee was very adamant on the rules regarding offside when there is 'no tick formed' Scots took advantage of this and really get up in the faces of our backs on defence. This meant that for most of the game we kept the ball in tight amongst the forwards and had some great pick and drive play. All in all the boys should be proud of their performance.

Noah Robertson 10S

15As Match Report

With a great week of training the boys turned up fit and prepared for Saturday's game. Facing usually tough competitors we were up for the challenge. The training we did on tackling clearly worked as we stopped their offence a number of times. Not only that our offence improved tremendously scoring a whopping 59 points! Our man of the match goes to Antoine as he put in a huge amount of effort getting two major cover tackles. Paul Feng and William Cui were also standouts. With this kind of effort put into training every week, our team will break barriers and push beyond the expectations set upon us earlier this season.

Vincent Dorahy 10S

13As Match Report

What a win. Sydney High U13s made a complete turnaround from last weeks devastating loss. As a team we put up 32 points to their 10. Every member of our team gave everything and we all made major improvements. Our defence came a long way from last week, only allowing a good Scots team 10 points. Our man of the match, Fraser Wait showed his experience, managing the game exceptionally and making some crucial tackles. All in all, Sydney High U13s made major leaps forward and with this weeks win, I believe we have the players and the team to do exceptionally well.
