

From the Principal Final High Notes for 2018

In introducing our final High Notes edition for 2018, I would like to thank all the contributors – staff, students, parents and Old Boys who share information about the activities of our students with the wider school community. It takes considerable effort to produce this publication every week. To do that, editors Meredith Thomas and Dave Te Rata, spend hours collating, formatting, editing and printing High Notes. Thank you also to Brooke Ashton who proofreads the document before publication. We try to make it informative and accurate.

High Talent

Congratulations to Andrew Chang (11T) who is accelerating in music 2 and who has been invited to perform at Encore – a great achievement!

Competitions Policy

SBHS wants to give students an opportunity to compare themselves in academic-style competitions to the rest of Australia. Competing in a broader pool allows students to shine who may be overshadowed in the narrower context of our school. It has been school policy to enter all students automatically in competitions run by ICAS-International Competitions and Assessments, managed by UNSW Global. From next year, ICAS is changing its directions and steeply increasing charges. As the school spends >$65k annually on competition entries, without invoicing students for their entries, we need to get value for money when directing funds as a gifted and talented intervention. From 2019, Head Teachers will decide which competitions are worthwhile entering. Also, as some students currently do not take participation in some or all of their competition opportunities seriously, we would rather not make participation assumed for everyone. Consequently, entries into approved competitions will be voluntary from 2019. Students will need to 'opt in' to have the opportunity of testing their skills. Entries will not be just made in bulk as previously, but rather ordered on a needs basis. Whilst this is messier administratively, it is also a more effective use of scarce resources for meeting the needs of our students.

Collection of Reports

All boys should have collected their reports. Regrettably, there are still boys who have not fulfilled their commitments, completed their Clearance Forms and booked an appointment time to see me to discuss their progress at school. This is an important step in our feedback loop and I insist on speaking to boys personally. Boys can come and get their reports before or after school and at lunch or recess on most days, unless I have appointments or have already set aside a time to chat with boys about their reports. There are also sheets provided for 'Stragglers' Reports' for an hour or so on selected days. Boys just need to make an effort to comply with policy, and come and see me. Once I have had a short feedback session with each boy, his report is loaded online against his personal file on Find a Student. Appointments can be made in the new school year by filling in one of the sheets on the Waterhouse desk in the corridor or just drop by before school, recess and at lunch (except Tuesdays). The benefits of my interactions with boys lessen if the discussion is too far removed from the assessment events being discussed.

Interpreting Year 10 Reports – Semester 2

All Year 10 boys should now have their reports. Parents are advised to work with their sons in the process of choosing Year 11 courses. Choosing courses for Year 11 study can be assisted by evaluations of Year 10 performances. English and mathematics courses are determined by the school's pattern of offered courses and by the results of the mathematics selection process for extension 1. Year 10 boys should have done their Career Voyage questionnaire during their Transition Education periods. These results should be discussed in the light of your son's interests and abilities. Courses can be selected to underscore certain tertiary directions – eg chemistry for medicine, or economics for a commerce degree.

As for the semester 1 report, ranks are varied by several factors. Students who have not performed well in PE will have a reduced ATAR prediction because the calculation is made on 12.6 units (using a pro rata for PE based on time spent). Students who do online elective receive the average of the other units so as not to advantage nor disadvantage them, whereas they may have taken another elective and earned an above average score. Students accelerating have a harder task than non-accelerants as they are assessed at stage 6 standard. Students may also lose interest in electives they are not continuing and record weaker results. Electives done for enjoyment are in contrast to the serious efforts that will need to be made in their stage 6 courses.

Meet the Prefect

In modern society, the breaking down of social expectations surrounding mental health is crucial in allowing young men to succeed. The demanding nature of a school like Sydney High means there can often be immense pressure on all students to perform well in the classroom and on the playing fields.

The mental health of students at High is paramount to their ability to flourish and thrive as 'scholar-sportsmen'. High is fortunate enough to be gifted with a wide support network, ranging from school counsellors available at any time to a dedicated Welfare teacher and several Welfare prefects who all work together to help care for students' wellbeing.

Artistic endeavours can act as an outlet for stress, and are richly rewarding pursuits that enable students to explore their creative side. Art provides students with the ability to freely express themselves through canvas, sculpture, photography and even film. The unrestricted license given to artists allows them to think creatively to discover more about themselves.

As a part of the Welfare Prefects team, we aim to break down societal norms and help the boys at High become the best versions of themselves. As the Arts Prefect, I urge students to follow their creative aspirations and display this through the variety of artistic mediums available. High is a large supportive family, and as your Prefects we strive to be your 'Brothers in Brown and Blue'.

James Pham
Welfare and Arts Prefect

Meet the Prefect

There is no other school that comes close to High. There is no school where you would discover a fully equipped rowing facility, weights room or fields as expansive as McKay, unless you were willing to pay out thousands of dollars a year for the privilege.

Undeniably, the notion of an all-rounder has defined High culture and spirit above everything else. The accomplishing feeling of waking up at 5am every Friday for training, coming home at 10pm following an intense debate, and subsequently sacrificing your Saturdays year round without complaints or exceptions is simply what six years of resilience and fulfilment has taught me. That's why the Prefect body's motto of 'Brothers in Brown and Blue' resonates, implying that we should support each other through school pride like brothers, whether it be at Head of The River, watching your mates cross the finish line no matter how far behind, or sticking through with co-curricular commitments without using parents or studying as excuses.

As Prefect of the largest debating program in NSW, I hope juniors can broaden their minds before turning this exclusive opportunity down, come to junior debating club, and register for house debating and tryout for a GPS team. Above all, this activity is empowering, granting me confidence in expressing my views, even before individuals who would disagree, and harnessing the power of rhetoric displayed by leaders and politicians alike. I promise, you won't regret it.

Leo Ye
Debating Prefect

Meet the Prefect

My journey at Sydney Boys is much like the Bruch Violin Concerto -- slow to start, dark and turbulent at times, several sweet and glorious moments in the middle, and a tricky finale that demands the greatest virtuosity from the performer, culminating in a triumphant ending.

Such is the expressive capability of music, allowing composers to capture a broad spectrum of emotions and enabling performers to enrapture audiences. The joy of music-making brings people together in ways nothing else can, making a musician the sum of passion, talent and hard work. Yet these defining attributes are essential to succeed in any field, meaning the qualities gained by being a musician are transferable and flexible.

As a 'scholar-sportsman' and musician at High, the time management skills acquired from studying, practising violin two hours a day, sports training two or three times a week, and debating every Friday night are invaluable. More importantly, the experiences of performing solo on stage, leading the Symphony Orchestra and winning the GPS Debating Championship are memorable ones, perhaps more so than many academic achievements.

As Music Prefect for 2019, I hope to continue to help nurture and lead musicians young and old -- from our Symphony Orchestra down to the Junior Strings. High isn't just a school -- it's a family of supportive people. Take the opportunities High offers with both hands and aspire to make memories you'll never forget!

Music Prefect

From the Canteen

The High canteen relies heavily on the support of dedicated parent volunteers, who assist Karen and Tracey each week. This ensures that our operating costs are low and all profits returned to school community. We would like to thank the following parent helpers for last week:

MON: Lisa Fackender

TUE: Thajeewa Pingamage, Jin Song

WED: Jenny Chui, Linda Ji

THUR: Arti Shah, Stella Tsui

FRI: Anika Verma, Lin Yang

Particular thanks to our outgoing Year 12 parents, who have continued to assist at the canteen although their boys have finished HSC. Your support is greatly valued and appreciated.

A reminder that we will be running down stocks as we approach end of year. We look forward to your patronage next year. Please do consider placing a recess or lunch order. This will greatly reduce waiting times and food wastage. The canteen is currently trialling cashless payment options and we hope to expand this to the whole school. We would like to acknowledge the extensive work put in by David Isaacs to get this up and running.

Year 10 Camp Report for High Notes

For its second year, the annual Year 10 camp offered a fun and engaging experience for 50 students. The camp was 5 days long in the Bangadilly National park, 2 hours' drive from Sydney. It was a chance for Duke of Edinburgh Awards participants to complete their silver level practice and qualifying hikes.

At the start of the camp, our camp leaders taught us how to effectively pack our bags and fit them for maximum comfort. This was important as most packs were around 10 kilograms. During the camp, we were taught to camp without leaving a trace, navigate around obstacles and find a bearing. These skills are essential in order to keep safe and also to protect the environment. While there was a lot of hiking, the camp also offered activities like fishing, first aid training, navigation and canoeing.

The meals provided at camp were prepared using predominantly fresh ingredients. With the help of a cookbook everyone took turns cooking the meals. This made for creating interesting and tasty dishes. The meals were sometimes challenging to cook due to the non-availability of some cooking equipment however they mostly turned out pretty tasty. On the third night, the groups competed in a cooking challenge to see who could create the best-tasting fire roast. Group 2 won the challenge and were awarded extra food.

The hikes varied in terrain and distance sometimes was quite challenging. Despite being challenging, everyone encouraged each other and we all pushed through. Despite our fast pace, no one got lost or was left behind. On the fourth day, the groups were faced with several team building exercises. Our group divided into two teams and competed in a tyre challenge, shelter building challenge and a fire challenge. These challenges built teamwork, communication and leadership skills.

The camp allowed us to connect with the outdoors rather than our technology. It taught us many life skills and created plenty of unforgettable memories. It was a great opportunity to learn more about ourselves and the people in our groups. In order to have the best experience, we had to learn to work well together. We would like to thank Ms Ibbott for making this camp possible. We would also like to thank the teachers who supervised us during the 5 days, especially to Ms Millar who was called in at the last moment.

Captain of Boats Report

With four seemingly long months until Head of the River the summer season has gradually been building in intensity. Throughout the term, the technical improvements, strength gains and fierce competition for seats will culminate in a number of selections beginning with a 6 kilometre ergo on Wednesday accompanied by our final 3.5 km single scull time trial and CHS selections the following week. The continued effort throughout exam blocks in the past weeks with 3 sessions a week is a testament to the renewed and unwavering effort that will unarguably reap reward come January and the commencement of the racing season. However, the term, despite challenging to all aspects of character has nevertheless been enjoyable, with handicapped racing between the senior eights, senior fours and year ten eights the past week both productive and competitive. Moreover the weekly camps despite the gruelling mornings and weary Friday's have facilitated friendships, fantastic food and banter throughout the shed. Whilst all the private schools have begun holidays and their gradual decline, the shed will be looking towards guaranteeing constant improvement, especially in the holidays, where 3 Coogee stairs runs and three weeks of continued training featuring a week long AIS stay will undoubtedly place High rowing on the right path.

Despite missing our No. 1 player, Highs 1st grade was successful in defeating Scots to win the trial plate. 2nd Grade lost to Scots. Both teams will need to work hard over the school holidays to give themselves the best chance of premiership wins next year.

The 2019 season starts off with Newington & Scots in the first two rounds. This year Scots were a good through all their grades and age groups. There was some great tennis played with many matches going to tie-breaks particularly in the Under 14's.

SHOOTIN' 241 HOOPS

Welcome back to the last edition of Shootin Hoops for the year! This week the Opens and 15's teams went to Melbourne for the Australian School Championships. The 15's were in the 17's Division 3, which was the perfect opportunity to play for development against bigger and stronger bodies, and came 4th. The Opens played in the Championship Division, against many of the Nation's best, and came 7th out of all schools in Australia! Thank you to Ben Hayman, Sam Higgins, Ben Carter, Nick Watt and Bruce Gordon for taking care of the teams for the entirety of the competition.

Opens started off by playing the AIS school Lake Ginninderra College, who ended up placing second in the nation. After giving our all and winning the first half, the boys were unfortunately not able to hold things together towards the end of the game. However, their play in the first half showed how much the team could gel together as a cohesive unit across the competition. Day 2 saw a close loss to St James College, and another loss the next day against Rowville Secondary College. Fortunately, that same afternoon the boys were able to pull together, follow the game plan and coaches instructions and end up with a convincing win over St Augustine's College. After placing third overall in their pool games, the team played Newington College for the chance to place 5th in the nation, but fell just short against a Newington outfit, which boasted many year 12 players, some of which have made national sides. However the team was able to bounce back and win the final placing game for 7th, getting revenge over St James College. The tournament showed the true potential the team has, and with almost all players returning next season, the future looks bright if the squad can focus with consistency to execute the game strategy and stay together.

The 15's were 3 and 3 in the whole competition, playing St Augustine's second grade team in the first game. Getting a solid win, they gained confidence, since Augustine's had both height and speed, though they were able to defeat them. On the next day, the 15's played Encounter Lutheran College, a tough school with multiple shooters, in which the 15's were unable to shut them down and win. However, the next day, against Berwick College, they were able to step up and take down the top team in a close win of 66-63. Following this game, the 15's were further able to win against the familiar Newington College in the quarter finals, winning by a comfortable margin of 10. However, in the semi-finals, the team was again matched up with Encounter Lutheran College, and was ultimately unable to defeat them to enter the finals. In the bronze game, St Augustine's also came back with a tougher, more confident side, who were able to utilise their strength and height against the 15's. Although the team finished the competition with 2 close losses and 4th place, the whole team came home with much more experience and confidence than they had prior to the competition.

That's all for this year. Make sure to look after your body and rest up over the holidays, but don't forget to put some shots up as well. And as always, Play Hard, Play Smart, Play Together.

Go HIGH!

Play Hard, Play Smart and Play Together!

Thanks to everyone who makes Shootin' Hoops possible
