Illuminate Festival

Hundreds of students and parents crowded into the great Hall on Monday night last for the opening of the Illuminate festival for 2019. The courtyard twinkled with streams of decorative lights and was set up with art installations. The exhibition space was packed as people jostled for a view of the artworks, industrial arts projects, operating robots and interactive games. Mr David Hirst (SHS-1983), a distinguished architect, gave the opening address. Saarangan Arvind (11E) was the MC. He introduced an hour of performances to a packed house. We were entertained by a group HSC drama performance by Tyler Harapin (12T), Kobe Shannon (12T), Jevon Somanader (12E) and Irvin Tsui (12R). Tyler and Jevon also delivered their HSC monologues. Yung Kim (11T) performed a piece from his Music 2 HSC repertoire on flute. Andrew Chang (12T) played piano in an accompanied piece for his HSC music extension. To conclude, Ryan Jepson (12F) projected his English extension 2 film 'L'oeil'. The standard of the performances was high and much appreciated by our special guests and the audience.

Judy Cassab Art Prize

As part of our Illuminate festival, the Judy Cassab Art Prize was judged and the winner announced on opening night. The prize was established by Peter Kampfner, son of Judy Cassab, and a High Old Boy. There is a gallery of artworks by Judy Cassab in McDonald Wing. Judy donated, or selected and purchased, the artworks for the first Ethel Killip Memorial Art collection in 1963. The prize is for painting in any category, is open to any student from SBHS or SGHS and is based on artistic merit. The finalists were judged by Romesh Nithiyendran (SHS-2007). There were 12 finalists from 24 entries from SGHS. From SBHS there were 21 finalist from 41 entries. Congratulations to the runners up – a Year 10 SBHS collaborative mosaic piece. The winner was Prathik Subbanna (11S), with 'Colonialism', an acrylic on cotton cap. He was awarded the $2000 prize. I would like to thank the finalists and the visual arts staff from the two schools. On behalf of Prathik and the two schools, I would like to thank Peter for his continuing generosity and for his commitment to sponsoring this Art Prize.

Wear It Purple Day

Last Friday, we celebrated Wear it Purple Day – 30.8. The assembly was informal and took the form of a Q & A with our guest Josh Akhurst, Youth Liaison Officer, from Surry Hills Police Station. My speech to the assembly is reprinted below:

Since 2010, 'Wear it Purple Day' has been held as a response to the multiple teenage suicides that occurred in that year. The suicides were provoked by persistent bullying and harassment caused by a lack of peer acceptance of an individual's sexuality or gender identity. This year's assembly coincides with the designated day of awareness raising about the consequences to society of a lack of inclusivity in human interactions. 'Wear it Purple' strives to foster supportive, safe, empowering and inclusive environments for rainbow young people. It focuses on awareness raising in educational settings, opportunities for networking, providing safe places (digital and physical) and collaboration with other supportive organisations. The theme for this year's event is 'Stand Up, Stand Out!'

At High, we have been active for some time in the practice of social inclusion. In recent years, we have taken the opportunity, in a variety of forums, to express our respect for diversity among young people. At either IDAHOT or Wear it Purple assemblies, we gather to demonstrate our institutional resolve to treat all people equally. We expand our attention to all forms of discrimination – racial, religious, sexist, or sexual orientation. The wearing of purple is an emblematic statement of a personal sympathy for the individual human right to be different and to express yourself uniquely. We have grown as a society in recent years in our recognition of a need to integrate people with a physical disability or a mental health issue into our institutions and work places. We have learned more about acceptance and have worked to diminish rejection and discriminatory behaviours. We must be consistent in our public and private utterances and interactions with others. Acceptance of difference does not imply endorsement of any particular world-view or personal behaviour. It does imply the international human right to be treated with dignity and equality. At High, our Equality Committee raises awareness of the need for inclusivity in the school community setting. Our School Prefects have had a focus recently on supporting the mental health of our students.

We see ourselves as activists, in this struggle for inclusivity in society. My belief is that at High we are standing up for equality in human rights and that we are standing out among secondary schools, because of our institutional efforts to become inclusive and supportive of everyone's right to self-expression.

Tell Them From Me Survey

The online survey of parent opinions about school life has opened. I encourage parents to take this opportunity to express their views and influence possible change. The survey gives all parents a voice in our development of policies and processes. It is very simple to access and easy to complete. This year there are several questions designed specifically for our school. Parent voice is very important to us at High. The survey closes on October 25. To have your say about our school go to <https://sbhs.co/p19>

Within the Equality Committee, one of our favourite days of the year is Wear it Purple Day. This day gives us an opportunity to not only show our efforts to the school, but to also see the support for the LGBTQI+ community within the school. On arriving at school, we were all astonished and relieved to see the number of people both wearing purple and buying purple ribbons in support of the day.

This year gave us our most busy Wear it Purple Day yet; we sold approximately 300 purple ribbons in the morning, held an assembly on the day, and sprayed students' hair purple during the basketball game at lunch. At the assembly, Constable Joshua Akhurst of Surry Hills Police gave an interview with Andrew Smallbone (Year 10) to tell us about his experiences with discrimination during his time in the Police Force, being both a Youth Liaison Officer and a Gay/Lesbian Liaison Officer.

Despite the day falling on the last day of our Trial HSC, our prefects came in for a basketball game against a combined team of Sydney Girls' prefects and Surry Hills

Police. Due to the rain, the game was held on the inside basketball courts, and it was an exciting, fun match which held the crowd captivated the whole way. I'd like to thank Miss Stephens and our Equality Committee for working to see through such a successful day, and both prefects and Surry Hills Police for showing support for the LGBTQI+ community with our school.

Louise Flint

single celebration. The introduction of Wear It Purple Day into Sydney Boys' High brought with it a greater acceptance of diversity and tolerance. And now, six years later, we have an official Equality Committee, having celebrated an Equality Conference last term, and support networks such as the Gay Straight Alliance.

The point of Wear It Purple Day is to recognise the diversity of students, and make them feel comfortable in a place where

Equality Prefect Akif Kazi's Wear It Purple Day Assembly Speech

Good morning Dr Jaggar, students, teachers and Distinguished guest Constable Josh Akhurst, and welcome to our assembly for Wear It Purple Day 2019.

In 2013, prefect Nelson Tang started the tradition of the basketball game between SBHS and SGHS. It had a very humble beginning. People didn't wear purple, and it was mostly a thing between the prefects of the two schools, but the basketball game was a wonderful celebration of student diversity. Six years later, we continue playing the basketball game. Today, I see a sea of purple, and police officers from Surry Hills come down to celebrate with us. And it's not just a they'll spend over a quarter of their time. Every day we move towards ensuring that students who are LGBTQI+ have the ability to be themselves at school. Because those students should never feel turned away from opportunities for success. Definitely not at this school where anyone can be great at sports, academics or anything else provided they work hard. It's estimated that between 2-5% of our population is LGBTQI+, which means that there's statistically at least 5 people in every year group who is part of that group. It could be the Dux of your year, or the top debater, perhaps the best footy player. Or it could be just another one of your mates. Regardless, we have to make sure those students feel comfortable at Sydney Boys' High, because they can continue being great, and perhaps one day, become role models for everyone in the future.

Vice-Captain of Boats Start of Season Report: 'Rowing although it is a summer sport is a full-year commitment'

All the Rowing boys have been training hard over the winter off-season and are eager to start the Rowing season for 2020. Our First Erg testing is in mere weeks, so the bittersweet feeling is ever approaching again. Our numbers for this season are rampant, with a competitive number of boys fighting for 'A' group. The title of '1st IIIV' is becoming more prestigious the closer we come to compete for it. With last years '1st VIII' being comprised of half Year 11 Rowers, there's a good chance for lower year rowers to compete for the title. My own spot in the 1st VIII is not guaranteed and may be taken away. This scares me and in the near future, will be increasing ergs and weights, so this catastrophic event does not occur. I hope the other boys follow this momentum into our last season of rowing and smash out at the Head of the River with a sub 6:30 2k, better than last year with a couple less kilos per person.

An arbitrary feud yet, my brother, Matthew Whittaker's best 2k Race is 6:08 which seems unachievable but with the passion and heart this year's rowers have I might be able to beat my brother once and for all.
