Interpreting Year 8 Reports Semester 1

All boys should now have their reports. Parents need to know that a few marks up or down near cut-off scores for Distinctions or High Distinctions can make a big difference in their son's points' totals. When moving from Year 7 into Year 8 students get their first-choice process – one language or two? As a consequence, some boys do ten subjects as in Year 7 and others, nine. To calculate the boys' scores, their best 9 subject outcomes are counted (27 points at credit level). So, boys doing more subjects may have an advantage. Conversely, they may be disadvantaged by having more subjects to master. Language choice can affect ranking outcomes. For example, some boys chose Chinese Advanced. Some chose Latin, other chose Latin and Classical Greek. Some students are doing 'Information Processes and technology' a stage 6 course. These are demanding subjects. Getting Distinctions in these subjects is harder – fewer students do them, too. Boys not doing two languages have to have their PE results counted. Sometimes boys in Year 8 start to think about what electives they might do in Year 9 and what the compulsory subjects there are. These future choices might affect their motivation to succeed in some of the compulsory subjects that they are doing currently. Because of the semesterisation of history and geography, students who perform much better in one of these disciplines more than the other can produce big swings in points earned at the half yearly or yearly report. Quite a few boys who have done well in their Yearly Report take their foot off the accelerator and coast through semester one, with effects on their ranking. Often, they get back on track by the time of the Yearly Report again. In short, there are many reasons for big swings in rank. I think that +/-40 positions of swing means that something has altered. Usually, big positive or negative fluctuations are due to changes in learning dispositions: boys listening in class, taking notes, doing homework, accessing past papers and revising before assessment periods. Alternatively, if they stop doing these things, their results may decline. Circumstances in their domestic life may affect their learning concentration or motivation and result in big swings in the rank order also.

Student Leadership Assembly 2021

This week we held our student leadership assembly and investiture ceremony for our School Prefects. My speech to the assembly is reprinted below.

'Staff, students, parents and Prefects of Sydney Boys High, welcome to our official recognition of student leadership and investiture assembly for our 2021 School Prefects. I acknowledge this morning the Gadigal people of the Eora nation as the custodians of the land on which we meet and pay my respects to elders past and present and extend that respect to any Aboriginal people here today.

At High, we have many opportunities for students to show leadership. There are many endeavours that require our students to lead. How should leaders behave? There are seven distinct leadership styles. There is the autocratic – 'do as I say'- leader who believes in command and control. The authoritative leader says- 'follow me'- by mapping the way and setting expectations. The pace-setting leader says –'do as I do'- and sets the bar high and pushes for achievement. The democratic leader says –'what do you think?'- to share information that affects employees work responsibilities. The leader as coach says – 'consider this...' - while trying to unlock potential. The affiliative leader says – 'people come first' - and tries to meet the emotional needs of their teams. Finally, the laissez-faire leader says - 'trust them to do it'- and employs the least amount of oversight. In reality, leaders have to alternate among many of these styles, depending on the context in which they are leading and the problems they are addressing.

As student leaders, you will develop the style that suits you as your preferred method of leading. We expect you to understand your duties clearly and to carry them out ethically and faithfully. You are in a learning phase about leadership. Schools can be good places to train and build up your knowledge about what works and doesn't work. Nearly always, leadership involves compromise. Learn how to compromise within a framework of action governed by moral principles. If you ask yourself whether a course of action is the right thing to do, your honest answer will be your best guide.

Thank you to all the students who have served our school in various capacities this year. SRC, Community Service, Peer Support, Peer Mentors, Equality, PAWS, Environment – no matter where you served, you exhibited leadership. We really appreciate that it takes courage to put your name forward for a role and even more courage to carry it out well. Congratulations to you all.

In many ways, the quality of our Prefect body is a mirror of the quality of our school life. Full participation in the election process measures the level that school pride has reached. It benchmarks how inspired boys are to commit to qualifying for the role and then carrying it out to the best of their ability. Our traditions are our moral anchors but can also inspire us to emulate or build on activities and priorities that are our legacy. There have been so many great Prefects before them at this school that they must try to follow in some aspects of their role. The honour of such a long-established and prestigious position energises them to perform it well.

The Senior Prefect leadership team for 2021 is Jivan Naganathan as Captain, Billy Nguyen as Vice-Captain and Rhys Shariff as the Senior Prefect. They have carried out their roles with diligence, enthusiasm and initiative. The careful and caring stewardship of Ms Rigby as Prefect MIC must be acknowledged and thanked. She has set high standards and held our boys to account. At the same time, she is unfailingly supportive of the students she mentors in these important tasks. I want to thank her for her dedication to the role and for her effectiveness in it.

To move from internship to the point of getting their perpetual School Prefect badges today, Prefects had to prove that they could meet the requirements for the role. These requirements were demanding. Prefect interns had to continue to meet a predetermined academic standard. They had to maintain their participation in school life, play two GPS sports and earn a Student Awards Scheme Award in their final year. They had to have exemplary standards in behaviour, school dress and punctuality.

The Internship of our Prefects lasts for a full year. From this annual investiture assembly onwards, a new cohort of candidates will have to meet the qualifying standards to be placed on the ballot. They will have to pass the test of democratic election by a constituency of students in Years 10 and 11, teachers and outgoing Prefects. Once elected they will have to perform well until their induction assembly as Prefect Interns and then for the next three school terms until they reach this culminating ceremony of signing the Prefects' Book and receiving their perpetual School Prefects badges.

Sydney Boys High Prefects are particularly self-disciplined people – they have proven themselves worthy of the honour shown to them. They have earned their recognition and acknowledgement. I congratulate all the students who are to receive their badges today and thank them for their service to High.

23 Battalion Bivouac 2021

Over the weekend of the 15-16 April 2021, the Sydney High School Cadet Unit (SHSCU) went to our first battalion bivouac since the start of the pandemic. All 62 cadets took the school bus and minivan to the Holsworthy Army Barracks. This bivouac was organised for 23 Battalion Australian Army Cadets involving some 300+ cadets from units across Sydney and South Sydney. For many recruits like myself, we were eager to experience our first cadet camp and it would also be the final challenge before we could become fully fledged cadets.

Setting up camp for the first time in dark chilly conditions proved to be a tricky task. We were put up against it with the challenge of finding a good location to set up a hootchie (a kind of single person tarp tent) by ourselves. It took a few attempts and a lot of perseverance but we eventually were able to create a decent shelter. By then, we had dinner, had taken the night roll call and were ready to go to sleep under the stars in our sleeping bags. The next morning, we were awoken suddenly to the violent shaking of our hootchies and the voices of our NCOs booming from outside, ordering us to get to morning roll call. As soon as I raised my head, I was met with the cold wet surface of the hootchie from the morning dew. My hands felt so numb and frozen I rubbed my fingers together to get some feeling back and to prepare for the coming day. Everyone drowsily limped out of bed, slipped on their hats and boots, and then shuffled quickly into company formation.

We couldn't wait to take part in the fun activities planned for that day and were ready to learn something new. On the first day we had various lessons taught by the NCOs about cadet theory, such as what to do at a bivouac, how to move in the field and how to best stay concealed. We were also able to do some team building exercises, where we competed on which team could flip the hootchie over with the most people standing on it, and a fun night activity which involved sneaking up on other people in pitch black darkness to steal a glowstick. On the second day, we were able to take part in even more entertaining hands-on activities like hiding with camouflage, how to conduct vehicle checks and a tug of war.

Overall, the cadets had a great time at this camp. I am sure this experience will stay with us forever, and I can't wait to attend the next one. A huge thanks to all the staff and NCOs who gave up their weekend to make this camp as good as it was.

Prefect Volunteering Afternoon

Last week on Thursday, several Prefects headed back to Centennial Parklands to mulch and weed once more in preparation for the opening of the Guriwal Trail. Over the past four visits, we've helped transform the bushland site by both increasing the presence of Aboriginal bushtucker and restoring the walking trail itself – a terrific effort! Special thanks to Murray Gibbs from the Parklands for giving us the opportunity to give back to the community! Jie Rui Lin (12F)

1st/2nd XV Report

Sydney High 1st and 2nd Combined XV played St Pius in an away game. With 8 of the starting 15 1st XV players out due to injury, the game was never going to be easy. The boys showed commitment and intensity in training throughout the week which paid off as we shrugged off our traditionally slow start with a very competitive 1st half effort which had the game in the balance going into the second. The mettle shown in this first 25 minutes was truly astounding, with positive energy and aggression driving us to transform into a competitive side.

Unfortunately, our energy in the second half ran low, Pius managed to run away with the game in the 2nd half, scoring 28 points. Nevertheless, the team will be back to near full strength next week with the boys fired up for the annual Grammar game, so make sure to be there and show your High Spirit, as we have a good chance at victory this year!

Marcus Dimitriadis (12T)

15s Report

With many of the boys away on Cadet bivouac, our roster had almost no subs. But this did not concern us, as we received to start. Within the first phase, it was clear that Pius was not only fast but had a strong hunger for the ball. After being scored on, the first half quickly became an uphill battle. Placed on the defensive for most of the half, up against a fitter, faster and bigger team proved challenging. But we kept our heads held high. Great defensive reading by E. Hybler throughout the half, kept Pius on their toes. As the first half drew to a close, the boys were given a bit of a breather at the half time break.

We rallied for the second half, focusing on setting the defensive line and eager for a chance at some good offensive plays. Finally with the ball in our hands, the boys poured weeks of practice into our offense. Even as we were all exhausted, we worked for the try. Great runs and offensive work by the team led to E. Hybler scoring a try under the goals. Not long after we were given a chance at a lineout. After weeks of honing our jumping and lifting, we won the lineout with ease and the backs were given a play at the ball.

After another couple of great offensive phases and team offensive effort, D. Bian was able to slide into a quick try. Both try's were converted by E. Hybler. Overall, the game was tough, but I am proud of the resilience the boys showed out on the field, even with most of the boys playing a full game. Great all-around effort by the team, especially by E. Hybler (15). This week we will seek to improve our ruck speed, support running and defensive line as we prepare for next week's game. We look forward to playing Grammar with a full roster!

SBHS FOOTBALL RECAP GPS Plate Round vs Joeys

Saturday 15 May

A fantastic showing in our Junior A Grade teams this past weekend, with all teams managing to go undefeated. Some other great wins in the 15Ds, 15Fs and 14Es. Highlights this week are a hat-trick for Siddhant Saini (9R) in the 15Fs and an excellent performance from Alex Hong (7T) in the 13As.

1st and 2nd grade played in the Plate Finals on the weekend, both drawn against The Scots School. Both teams had good patches of play and a variety of chances, but were not clinical enough to get the victory. Some great link up play in 2nds with Daniel De Costa (10E) and David Li (11R) combining for a goal, and a great game from Ashwin Rao (12M) in 1st grade was capped off with a goal of his own.

Next week we will face Riverview in the first round of the GPS Season.
